Jap Liners Run From U.S.

Ms. TATUTA MARU

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Japan, taking no chances on having her finest liners and cargo vessels seized by the United States, imposed strict orders of radio silence today on her merchant fleet, halted suddenly on the high seas.

Japan was clearly apprehensive as a result of President Roosevelt's denunciation of Indo-China occupation.

Forty-two Japanese ships were reported marking time at sea, some just a safe distance offshore, or turning back to Japan. Japanese ships in Pacific coast ports rushed loading operations. Sailings of two Nipponese cargo vessels from Yokohama to the United States were canceled.

The palatial Nippon Yusen Kaisha motorship Tatuta Maru was slowly steaming back and forth in fog about 12 miles from the Golden Gate. Where she is going has not yet been decided. She arrived off San Francisco yesterday at noon. In her holds is a silk cargo valued at $2,500,000. About 300 passengers are aboard. There was little doubt Japanese authorities feared the valuable cargoes aboard their vessels might be impounded if President Roosevelt should order Japanese credits in the U.S. frozen.

Shipping quarters expressed belief Japanese vessels lying idle along the coast would be forced into ports to take fuel aboard in the next few days. None is believed to carry enough fuel to return to Japan.

Final Bulletins

33 Nazis Bagged

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry stated tonight that 33 German fighter planes were shot down in yesterday's daylight attacks on the 26,000-ton German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau at La Pallice and Brest, France, respectively. Twenty-one were credited to planes of the bomber command and 12 to fighters.

Kahoney Wins

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont. (CP)—Scuffling easily and well within himself the whole distance, young Jack Kahoney captured the junior 140-pound singles at the 59th Royal Canadian Henley on the Welland Canal course this afternoon. He was pulling up at the finish.

Mayor Saves Gasoline

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor J. W. Cornett is setting an example for Vancouver citizens in gasoline conservation. He announced today his seven-passenger limousine will be replaced for ordinary duties by a lighter automobile and used only when there are distinguished visitors in the city or on "state occasions."

To Build 200 Homes

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Commissioner G. W. Vance today announced War Time Housing Ltd. will build 200 individual homes and two dormitories here within the next two or three months to relieve the housing shortage caused by the expansion in wartime industry.

'V' in Socks

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. A. Sinclair of Vancouver is doing her best to further the "V for Victory" campaign by knitting a large "V" into socks for her five sons, four of them serving in the Canadian army overseas and the other in a home defence unit. She is also pasting a large "V" on the outside of boxes used to send the socks.

Bingo Penalty

VANCOUVER (CP)—Wallace McDonald, vice-president of the Carlton C.C.F. Club, was convicted in police court today of conducting a lottery on the club premises here and remanded by Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson till September 12 for sentence.

The charge was laid as a result of bingo games conducted by the club.

Counsel for McDonald pleaded the club held the games in an effort to increase the sale of war savings certificates.

Moscow Off Air

LONDON (CP)—The Moscow radio went off the air shortly after 7 o'clock tonight (11 a.m. P.D.T.). This sometimes signals the beginning of an air raid.

everywhere in the west. It is satisfactory to note that the agitation we have started has caused the first steel mill in the west to be erected and it means we will probably have two mills in the west instead of one, both serving war purposes and not competing with one another."

Expected Oil Shipments to Cease

U.S. Plans Action Against Japan

Canadian and Associated Press
President Roosevelt announced at Hyde Park, N.Y., today the United States would retaliate with specific action tomorrow against Japan's occupation of naval and air bases in French Indo-China.

He told a press conference there would be something out of Washington tomorrow, but would not say exactly what.

But to members of the presidential party spending the weekend here the most likely move appeared to be the freezing of Japanese credits and assets in the United States.

Many persons, indeed, considered that step inevitable. But whether the United States was ready to take additional measures appeared to be awaiting future determination, depending on how the international situation developed in the Pacific.

Cutting Off Oil Would Be Blow

In Washington it was said today abandonment of the two-year-old policy of giving Japan access to United States oil in order to prevent aggressive action in the Pacific was a distinct possibility. Informed quarters were agreed that extraordinary counter-measures were in the making as a result of the Indo-China affair—measures designed to express this country's opposition to the action already taken as well as to any further Japanese step in the direction of Singapore, the Netherlands East Indies or the Philippines.

Capitol Hill heard increasingly frequent speculation on use of the navy to safeguard United States Far Eastern interests.

Japan Calls Up More Than 1,000,000

Expanding Japan's dream of conquest in the Pacific, a foreign intelligence report received in Shanghai today said that "upwards of 1,000,000 men" were being called to arms in Japan in the greatest mobilization since July, 1937, when the unfinished war with China began.

The newly-called men were said to include discharged veterans of the China war and some men previously considered unfit for service.

Every ship going to Japan from central and north China now is carrying reservists summoned for active duty, it was said.

The mobilization began July 17 and still is continuing, it was reported. Where the troops are going was kept secret.

Reports reaching Shanghai said the Japanese mobilization—the greatest since July, 1937, when the war with China began—had been in progress since July 17, and was still continuing.

Troop destinations were kept secret, but advance contingents were expected to occupy newly-won air and naval bases in southern French Indo-China on Sunday, and as one Hanoi newspaper put it: "Indo-China is on the way to Singapore and the Netherlands East Indies."

A Japanese military spokesman who confirmed the report that reservists in China were being called up, claimed they are going to Japan for training.

In Berlin, Nazi spokesmen declared Japan had informed Germany she was determined to oppose by every means "any British attempt on French Indo-China" or any threat to Japan's "new order" in the Far East.

Japan's Plunge Arouses Public

Talking to reporters in Hyde Park today, President Roosevelt was asked whether "events in the Far East have sharply accentuated the dangers in the international situation." He suggested the answer be put this way:

Events in the Far East are bringing a greater awareness on the part of the public to the dangers of the world situation,

Time to Move in the Pacific

President Roosevelt announces the U.S. will tomorrow retaliate with specific action against Japan's occupation of naval and air bases in French Indo-China.

The possibility of an oil embargo has been discussed since Mr. Roosevelt in short blunt sentences—all phrased in the past tense—suddenly broke official silence yesterday on why the Japanese have been allowed to obtain American oil thus far.

Had the oil been cut off, he told a group of civilian defence workers at the White House, "they probably would have gone down to the Dutch East Indies a year ago, and you would have had war."

Widely considered to be among the most significant aspects of the President's statement was that it was put in the past tense. From this was drawn the generally accepted inference that since the Japanese have acted in Indo-China he might be ready to impose an oil embargo along with other strong economic measures.

Not Yet Stating New Policy

At Hyde Park today a reporter asked:

"As of today will this government follow the policy you outlined yesterday?"

Mr. Roosevelt said he could not talk about that. He said he had been describing what had happened up to the time he was speaking.

"You left the intimation that that policy might be over with," a reporter remarked.

But Mr. Roosevelt said, he did not say as much.

"We are trying to get you to today," his questioner replied.

Smilingly the President said he knew that was the case but that he just didn't have any news along that line.

Putting up to Mr. Roosevelt what he termed a blunt question, a newsman inquired what the Japanese move into Indo-China and its implications would mean to United States neutrality.

That, the President said, is a terribly iffy question.

"Yes," his interrogator agreed, "but that's the interest of every American in this thing."

So many things have not happened, however, Mr. Roosevelt replied, and things that have not happened cannot be banked on as being the one that would happen, he said. One could talk on it, but that isn't the situation.

Japan's entry into Indo-China was a specific move, Mr. Roosevelt was reminded.

But we do not know what the move will be tomorrow or the next day, the President asserted.

In response to questions, Mr. Roosevelt said he thought the American people were no more aware of the international situation in the Far East than they were in the west.

But he said he had received yesterday reports from a newspaperman, two magazine writers, a cabinet member and two other persons who had been around and found that since March and April there had been a tremendous change, and the people were far more cognizant of the danger in the international situation.

Nevertheless the President declared, there still was insufficient awareness.

It has been estimated Japan has been getting 60 per cent of her oil requirements from the United States. If the United States should freeze Japanese credits that oil supply would be ended. Also it is stated freezing of credits would terminate sales of Japanese silk to the United States.

And the Driver Is Alive

Cuts on the right hand and bruises to the body were the only injuries received by the driver of this car, George Askey, Snelling Street, Saanich, which collided with another car, hit a telephone pole and rolled over two or three times in the middle of Douglas Street near Dupplin Road soon after 9 last evening. The crash attracted a crowd of about 100 people. City and Saanich police attended. Constables Jack Hamilton and Bert Pearson of the Saanich force reported Askey was attempting to pass a car driven by J. P. Norton, 2148 Pentland Avenue, which was about to make a left hand turn on to Dupplin Road. Both were traveling north on Douglas Street. The two collided and the result is shown in the picture. Norton's car was only slightly damaged. City Constables Stan Holmes and Ray Maitland took Askey to Jubilee Hospital, where Dr. C. W. Duck attended him. The ruins in the picture was a 1929 Durant coupe.

'Conscript Labor, Wealth'—Blaylock

VANCOUVER (CP)—S. G. Blaylock, president and managing director of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, addressing a luncheon meeting of the Vancouver Board of Trade today, said:

"In my opinion it would be much more efficient if everyone were conscripted and told whether he should work at home or join the forces."

"In that case a young man working in an industry could hold up his head and the industries would be able to retain the men required to properly conduct them."

"I feel certain that in this, as in the last war, in the end we will be forced to come to conscription. Every day's delay will emphasize the injustice of depending upon voluntary enlistment which takes the best men to war and leaves the yellows, the reds and the pinks at home."

"Enlisted men should be paid at least the basic wage recognized by the government for industry. I cannot see any justice in asking our young men to fight for us and then paying them less than those who stay behind, run no risks and enjoy life."

"Our voluntary enlistment campaign causes one a great deal of concern. It is true men are not forced to join, but every means short of compulsion has been used to make a young man feel he was not doing his duty unless he enlisted in the active forces."

In his new budget the Finance Minister had very nearly approached confiscation of wealth and industry, Mr. Blaylock said. "I firmly believe that to win this war every man, every industry and every dollar should be conscripted."

Two Steel Mills In West Probable

"The fact that Calgary is to have a steel mill does not mean that the matter is a dead issue in British Columbia. We have located another 20 and 10-inch mill that can be moved to British Columbia and be put into operation in five or six months, just as soon as the Calgary mill," R. W. Mayhew, M.P., who has been stressing the need for mills in the west, said today.

"If they have scrap in Calgary to keep a mill going there should be a mill there. We need steel not only in British Columbia but

MacKinnon to Head Trade Mission

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister MacKinnon announced today that he will head a five-man Canadian trade mission to South America, leaving New York August 15 and visiting eight countries.

STEEL TO THROW BACK AT HITLER—With the blessings of the 7th and 102nd Canadian Infantry Battalions of 1918. The two guns which have stood for 20 years outside the Legislative Buildings, a source of interest to thousands of children and tourists as trophies of the last, started the journey this morning which probably will finish in the shape of shells smashing at the Hun hordes. First step was across town to the Capital Iron and Metal Works where they will be reduced to scrap. The guns were sold to the scrap firm by the federal government. The weapon above, a light field gun, was captured by the 7th Battalion at Cambrai in September, 1918. The other one, a big howitzer, was captured at Bourlon Woods in the same month by a detachment of the 102nd Battalion under Major "Dick" Burde, who afterwards became a member of the Legislature for Alberni. On the shields of the two guns are scratched the names of hundreds of people who have seen them. The plates denoting where they were captured are being removed by Morris L. Greene, of Capital Iron, and presented to veterans' clubs here. The cement blocks on which they stood? Perhaps they will be left in position to receive trophies from the present struggle. Standing beside the gun above are Wally Summerville and Wally Knott of Victoria Baggage Company who removed the guns.

'V' Popularity Grows

Tourists visiting Victoria appear to be getting into the spirit of the campaign which was started in Great Britain in a "Vltzkrieg" against Nazi nerves. Street cars in the city are sporting large white "V's" as well as hundreds of private automobiles. Companies are placing the victory sign on their equipment.

The picture shows a monster "V" which has been painted on the Island Carrier, one of the Island Tug and Barge Company's old sailing ship sawdust barges. All tugs and barges of the company will be treated similarly.

"V" signs are appearing on the windows of tourist cars as well as local cars. One of the visiting youth hostellers painted a "V" on the rear light reflector of her bicycle.

An electrical store in town has a "V" sign over its front door with fluorescent lights.

Complaints of the "V" sign have been received though, despite its growing popularity. City police yesterday received complaints from three army officers that the sign had been painted on their cars while they were parked on Elford Street and a resident of Stanley Avenue complained that a "V" had been painted on his front door in yellow paint.

Jap Press Attacks U.S., Britain

LONDON (CP)—Japanese demands on Vichy in connection with Indo-China are regarded as a potential threat to British territories and interests in the Far East, an authorized source here said today.

JAPANESE STATEMENTS

TOKYO (AP)—All of French Indo-China "obviously is in need of adequate defence which will guarantee the integrity of the region," the Japan Times and Advertiser declared today as the Tokyo press adopted a more antagonistic attitude toward Great Britain and the United States.

Maintenance of stability in Thailand (Siam) was closely linked with the "serious situation" in Indo-China by the Times and Advertiser, organ of the foreign office.

The paper made no reference to reports from abroad that Japan had gained the right to establish bases in southern Indo-China, but it asserted Japan was "fully warranted in countering hostile activities" within her previously-defined "co-prosperity sphere."

The paper referred caustically to the "encirclement of Indo-China by Anglo-American and Chungking interests," which it said took the form of "aerial, naval and military bases extending from India and Burma around to Malaya and the Philippines."

The newspaper Yomiuri charged the United States and Britain planned to obtain air bases in China to raid Japan under the guise of strengthening the Chungking air forces. It added that British-American activities in the Far East now really threaten Japan.

The Asahi reported that Britain had increased her forces along the Burma and Malaya borders.

SEND WARSHIPS

SAIGON, French Indo-China (AP)—Concessions gained by Japan in French Indo-China were reported authoritatively today to include the right to station warships in Camranh Bay and at Saigon, several air bases in southern Indo-China and permission to post troops at several coastal points. Occupation may start Sunday.

"Several thousand" Japanese troops, authoritative sources said, will be stationed at Saigon and also along the southeast Indo-China coast and within Cambodia.

The Japanese, it was indicated also, have gained control of several southern Indo-China airports, where it is understood they will establish garrisons.

Both Saigon, up the Saigon River from Indo-China's southern coast, and the other air, troop and naval stations mentioned are the Japanese outposts closest to Singapore, British Malaya and

4th Moscow Raid Fails

New Nazi Offensive Checked

By the Canadian Press

British advices today reported the German army had renewed its offensive along the entire Russian front, but added there was "no decisive result gained by either side at any place."

Hitler's high command asserted the 34-day-old campaign was "proceeding according to plan," but it acknowledged stiff Red army resistance.

The Germans claimed a strong bunker group known as Emil Ezya on the Stalin Line, south of the Pripiet Marshes, surrendered yesterday after a fierce, 24-hour battle.

A Soviet war bulletin said "stubborn" fighting raged all last night in five main sectors—on the Petrozavodsk front, north of Leningrad; on the Porkhov front, south of Leningrad; on the Polotsk-Nevel front, in the centre; on the Smolensk front, where a deep German salient has been driven toward Moscow; and on the Zhitomir front, in the Ukraine.

All have been scenes of fierce, indecisive fighting for many days.

Red army troops defending the road to Moscow reported they had annihilated an entire German infantry division (of about 15,000 men) near Smolensk, and the Soviet capital's air defences were officially credited with beating off a fourth successive night assault by German bombers.

Unlike the three previous raids, each lasting precisely 5½ hours, the Germans struck twice last night, from 9:45 to 11:10 and later in a two-hour attack. An official Soviet announcement said that only one plane penetrated the capital's defences and that it was shot down.

GERMANS FAIL

S. A. Lozovsky, vice-commissar of foreign affairs and Soviet spokesman, summed up the aerial defence of Moscow by declaring only 3 to 4 per cent of the German raiders being sent against the capital were reaching their objectives. Ten to 11 per cent of the planes starting out were destroyed, he said.

The German high command communique, usually less extragant in language, concentrated today mainly on reports of stubborn Russian resistance and difficulties imposed by the terrain where German troops are operating.

A Russian communique said, "our air force operated against the enemy in co-operation with the land forces and delivered blows to the enemy's airdromes." Germans said "a large number of prisoners and war material are being captured daily."

Spokesmen claimed the number of prisoners taken in the Nevel region had reached 20,000 up to last night and the number of "deserters" was increasing, "especially at points where political commissars among the Red forces have fallen."

R.A.F. Raids Wilhelmshaven

Bombs Spread Ruin at Kiel, Emden

LONDON (CP)—Large fires and great damage were left in the German naval bases of Kiel and Emden when the Royal Air Force finished night raids there, the Air Ministry announced today.

While Kiel on the Baltic and Emden on the North Sea were being hammered, other R.A.F. forces attacked objectives at Wilhelmshaven and Rotterdam and blasted air fields in German-occupied France. Five British planes were lost.

Weather favored the thrust in force into northwestern Germany where the naval bases lie, the Air Ministry said, and "heavy loads of bombs were dropped." The attacks on Wilhelmshaven, another North Sea naval base, and on Rotterdam were by smaller forces.

AID FOR RUSSIA

British raids are serving a political end for Britain under her joint action pact with Russia. Informal sources said the vigor and extent of the offensive was expected to quiet Russian calls for greater aid. Conversations between British and Russian officials at the Soviet embassy here for the past two weeks are said to have been marked by pleas for more British air activity.

It was authoritatively reported that the R.A.F. shot down 30 German planes in yesterday's offensive sweeps.

Eighteen Nazi planes, an announcement said, were shot down yesterday afternoon in addition to the 12 previously reported destroyed during the morning.

Britain put on her biggest bombing show of the war, the Air Ministry indicated today, when four types of big planes raided Brest and La Pallice three times in attempts to knock out Germany's twin 26,000-ton battleships, the Scharnhorst and the Gneisenau.

The R.A.F. has been after the Nazi men-of-war ever since last March when the two were reported docked at Brest for repairs. Both were straddled by R.A.F. bombs a number of times, it was said, but the Scharnhorst was moved recently to La Pallice, on the other coast of France, about 240 miles south of Brest.

Seven direct hits on the Gneisenau at Brest and two direct hits on the Scharnhorst were reported by the ministry in the three raids yesterday.

Who Will Lead Conservatives?

Arthur R. Ford, managing editor of the London Free Press, discussing the prospects of the Conservative party in Canada, feels that "one of the chief weaknesses at Ottawa is the feeble Conservative opposition, weak not only in numbers, but in debating power."

Mr. Hanson has done well as House leader, and if he were 10 years younger and had his health, he would be in the running for the leadership, but "he is definitely out." In the House "he has little support from the front benches." Mr. Ford thinks that Howard Green of Vancouver is the best of most industrialists of these. "Dr. Herbert Bruce takes his job seriously, but was caught too late in life to make a good parliamentarian. Among the Conservative newcomers are several promising men. The best by long odds is J. G. Diefenbaker, member for Lethbridge, northern Saskatchewan. He is an excellent speaker, is a hard worker and has a fine legal mind. He was formerly Conservative leader in Saskatchewan. He is a coming man. The Conservative opposition as a whole, though, is pitifully weak."

For the permanent leadership Mr. Ford hears only three names seriously discussed at Ottawa: Hon. Murdo MacPherson of Regina; Col. George Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, and Sidney Smith, president of Manitoba University. The London editor has praise for all of these, but finds weaknesses in each. Mr. MacPherson "was badly wounded in the Great War and his health is none too good. Whether he could stand up to the burden of Dominion leadership is questioned." If Col. Drew "should by any chance carry Ontario before the convention, the party would turn to him as the white hope." But, "he has to win his spurs first in Ontario." Mr. Sidney Smith's name is the least known of the three, he has never sat in the House and lacks parliamentary experience and training. "However, in these days that may not be such a handicap." He has the advantage of having been born and educated in the Maritimes (Nova Scotia), of having taught law in central Ontario (Osgoode Hall, Toronto), and of having spent seven years as president of a university in the west (Manitoba). Mr. Ford says: "He took hold of the university when it had been robbed of almost everything but its eye teeth," to quote a Manitoba senator to whom we talked. He has placed the university on its feet and has not only the loyal but the enthusiastic support of the student body—and students are usually critical of university presidents. He has obtained the backing of rural Manitoba and the businessmen of Winnipeg. This is an unusual record. He is a fine figure of a man, a good mixer and very human. He is exceedingly able and very industrious. He is progressive in his views and interested in problems of the day. His supporters are enthusiastic that he is the white hope of the Conservatives. He is only 43 and has the viewpoint of the younger generation."

Statesmanship is a profession which calls for a wide diversity of talents, and whether Mr. Smith possesses all the necessary qualifications the Toronto Star fears only experiment would show. But the Conservative party needs a leader at once, and he would have to be drafted directly into the leadership. He would certainly bring to it many admirable qualities of heart and mind. As Mr. Ford points out, Liberals as well as Conservatives are anxious to see this historic party given adequate leadership. Mr. Gordon Graydon has been appointed national chairman, and the first steps are being taken towards party rehabilitation. It is a good sign.

WORKERS RIOT AT PANAMA CANAL

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone (AP)—Police reserves were called out today to quell a 90-minute conflict between Latin-American workers and others imported from the British West Indies for special defence projects in the Gatun area of the Canal Zone. An entire labor camp of some 3,000 men was involved.

Several rioters were jailed, three were seriously injured and 20 others required first aid.

Police said racial antagonism was at the bottom of the trouble and denied suggestions subversive influences were at work.

Platinum once was so cheap that bricks of it were gilded and sold to unwary greenhorns.

LOSE DESTROYER

LONDON (CP)—The Admiralty issued a communique today which said:

"Naval operations connected with the passage of a convoy through the Mediterranean have been taking place."

"During these operations our forces were subjected to a series of heavy air attacks by day during which a number of enemy aircraft were shot down and to attack by E-boats (motor torpedo boats) by night."

"Only preliminary reports so far have been received, but it is known that only one merchant ship was damaged, and that she was able to continue with her convoy under her own power."

"The Board of the Admiralty regrets to announce that in the course of these operations the destroyer Fearless (Commander A. F. Pugsley) was sunk. The next of kin of casualties will be informed as soon as possible."

"Further details of the operation will be announced when fuller reports are received."

New Women's Corps

OTTAWA (CP)—More than 2,000 women will be required for the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force which will be completely organized within two months, Royal Canadian Air Force headquarters said today.

This is the second auxiliary service to announce the number of women required. Defence Minister Ralston said recently that the Canadian Women's Army Corps would require 1,500 women very shortly.

The air force announcement today said formation of the corps is now under way and it is anticipated the force soon after it is in active operation will provide women to take over positions with the R.C.A.F., thus relieving airmen for other duties."

Recruits between the ages of 18 and 43 will be enlisted at the rate of 150 a week once definite plans are completed, officials said.

The C.W.A.A.F. training school, which will probably be located near Toronto, will give instruction in any of nine trades—administration, cooks, clerks, equipment assistant, mess-women, telephone operators, fabric workers, mechanical transport drivers and general duties.

Two administrative women officers of the British organization—the Women's Auxiliary Air Force—have been loaned in an advisory capacity to the R.C.A.F. by the British air ministry to assist organization. They are Wing Officer L. M. Crowther and Sqn. Officer E. C. Bather.

Daily Worker Still Out

LONDON (CP)—Home Secretary Herbert Morrison refused in the House of Commons yesterday to revoke the ban on the Daily Worker, Communist organ. He was cheered when he said that "at this critical period of the war, when extra effort is called for from all of us so everything possible may be done to assist our Russian ally, the government would not feel justified in relaxing the safeguard against a newspaper which systematically fomented opposition to the war effort."

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Pilot Officer Paul Delorme, 26, of Hamilton, a member of a Royal Air Force Spitfire squadron, is missing after air operations overseas, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Delorme, have been advised. He was credited with bringing down four Nazi aircraft.

Gasoline Rule*Existing Charge Accounts Not Hit

OTTAWA (CP)—Users of private automobiles who have charge accounts with filling stations may continue to enjoy that type of credit, but no new accounts of that nature may be obtained.

This prohibition has been effective from last Monday when regulations regarding hours of sale and use of credit cards went into force.

G. R. Cottrell, Dominion oil controller, making the announcement, said: "We have not interfered with the usual commercial credit. But we will stop the dealers from taking on any new accounts."

Some confusion had arisen over the order prohibiting the use of credit cards issued on behalf of the distributors for the purchase of gasoline and oil by the private consumer.

NOT ALL CASH AND CARRY

In the original announcement it was indicated that henceforth the sale of gasoline and oil would be on a "cash and carry basis."

Mr. Cottrell said the order absolutely forbade the retailer giving any credit on behalf of the distributor, which was how the credit cards operated.

"If we find out that any dealer is saying to customers that although they have lost use of their credit cards they may get credit just the same, we will act at once," Mr. Cottrell said.

But it was decided to let existing private charge accounts continue, particularly as a benefit to the farmers who must have credit until they obtain returns on their production.

Beecham Will Lead Vancouver Symphony

VANCOUVER (CP)—Allard de Ridder, former conductor of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, who has been appointed viola player of the Hart House String Quartette, will be succeeded by Sir Thomas Beecham.

Sir Thomas has signed a contract to conduct the Vancouver symphony for the season opening in October. He will make four appearances, with the option of two more. Sir Thomas is permanent conductor of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. de Ridder will succeed Milton Blackstone as viola player of the Hart House String Quartette. He will join the quartette next month.

Canadian Prisoner

LONDON (CP)—A list of prisoners of war in Germany, received from a German source, includes the name of Flying Officer William David McGaw of Saskatchewan.

People in the News*Royal Reunion?

A reunion between the DUKE of KENT and his brother, the DUKE of WINDSOR, Governor-General of the Bahamas, in Calgary this summer, now appears likely.

According to an official announcement from London, the Duke of Kent will visit Canada "shortly" and will enjoy a "rest period" at Banff while inspecting air force schools at Calgary.

Recently it was announced the Duke and Duchess of Windsor were planning a visit to the Duke's E.P. ranch near High River this summer.

It is considered probable the Duke of Kent will visit his brother's ranch if the Duke of Windsor is unable to carry through his plans.

The fact that Banff and Calgary are mentioned specifically in the London announcement is taken to indicate the Duke of Kent is anxious to visit this particular area of the Dominion for a particular reason.

E. P. Carlyle, manager of the E.P. ranch was not available for comment today on the possibility of a reunion of the brothers at the ranch this summer.

Going to London

PAUL D. BUTLER, British consul-general in San Francisco, will leave for London and a new diplomatic post in a few days.

His order to leave came as a surprise, he said. Mr. Butler has been consul-general in San Francisco for three years, and has spent 32 years in the diplomatic service.

Mr. Butler would not disclose where his new post would be, but indicated it would be one of the most important in the British Empire. His successor has not been named, he said.

Finnish Consul Asks Understanding

KAARLO KUUSAMO, Finland's consul-general in Canada, said in Montreal, Britain and Finland, the latter now fighting with Germany against Britain's friend Russia, "have a common goal" and appealed for understanding and trust on the part of the English-speaking world.

"As Great Britain can be fighting with the Communists and yet not subscribe to their doctrine, neither does Finland want any part of Nazism nor of any German ideology," he said.

"Finland is deeply and sincerely appreciative of the English-speaking peoples who so generously helped her in her previous struggle, and she now asks their understanding and their trust that, although they may seem to be traveling different roads at present they have a common goal."

Declaring there has been "wide-spread misunderstanding" of Finland's position in the new war, the consul said:

"The Finns are a law-abiding and peace-loving people, wanting no part in any war... Finland has never crossed her neighbor's border in aggression and does not intend to do so."

Finland's present objective, he said, was to fight until she has regained the territory which was taken from her in 1940.

Stimson Accuses Wheeler

U.S. WAR SECRETARY HENRY STIMSON said Senator Burton Wheeler had mailed post cards to army officers and men urging them to oppose United States entry into the war.

"I think this comes very near the line of subversive activities against the United States, if not treason," Col. Stimson said.

A million of the cards had been printed in the government printing office, Col. Stimson said.

The War Secretary said only two such cards had been seen by the War Department and added he did not know what proportion were sent to officers and men.

When such appeals are addressed to soldiers, he said, the action "crossed the line of what General Marshall called sabotage."

Wheeler told reporters he had sent out approximately 1,000,000 cards to "a cross section of citizens" all over the country "in an effort to hold the President to his pledge to keep this country out of war."

Some of the cards "naturally reached officers and men in the army," he continued, "but they were not directed primarily to that group."

Biddle Appointed

ANTHONY J. DREXEL BIDDLE JR., has been nominated by President Roosevelt to be minister to the government of Yugoslavia in exile in London.

Biddle already is serving as ambassador or minister to the exiled governments of Poland, Belgium, Norway and the Netherlands, which also are established in London.

Strange Case Ends

CHESTER B. DURYEA, now 70, and once described by a psychiatrist as a Rip Van Winkle who for a quarter of a century tried to "fill in the islands of amnesia and confusion," has been freed of a charge he killed his Civil War hero father in the pre-dawn of May 5, 1914.

The tall, partly bald Duryea, son of a millionaire, Gen. Hiram Duryea of the famous "Duryea's Zouaves" in the war between the States and grandson of Frederick Vanderbilt Duryea, who founded the starch industry in the United States, was not in the courtroom where final to one of New York's strangest crimes was written.

Duryea, whom police found standing over the bullet-riddled body of his 80-year-old father babbling, "angels told me to do it," was in a sanitarium, when his attorney applied for dismissal of the indictment.

A year ago, after being confined for 25 years to state hospital, Duryea was adjudged sufficiently sane to stand trial.

"We cannot try this man, but it is up to you, Your Honor, to take the responsibility of deciding whether he shall go free," the assistant district attorney told the judge.

"I will take that responsibility," replied the court. "Motion granted."

That was all. Duryea was free for the first time to see the changing world.

A psychiatrist declared: "Very definitely, he does not remember how his father was killed."

George Washington
Real Empire Founder

Hon. James Gardiner, Canadian Minister of Agriculture, in Florida said George Washington was the real founder of the modern British Empire. He was speaking to the International Lions Club.

"You speak of George Washington as the father of this country," said Mr. Gardiner. "I say unto you that George Washington was the real founder of the modern British Empire. When he challenged George III he challenged an ideal which is the essence of modern Hitlerism."

"George III believed the colonies of Britain existed for the good and benefit of Britain, to maintain her factories and her trade; to finance and feed her armies; that they might extend her trade and industry; in short, that they should be slaves to enhance the prosperity and greatness of Britain. Hitler believes the same when thinking of the German people in relation to the rest of Europe, and probably the world."

"George Washington and his colonists inspired the sympathy which resulted in the writings and speeches of Burke and the statesmanship of Chatham and Pitt the younger, upon which the whole modern British Empire rests."

Mr. Gardiner said "the world would some day acknowledge the fact that when the testing time came the democracies were led by two of the greatest characters of all time, the President of the United States and the Prime Minister of Britain."

Canada had chosen freely to enter the present war at the side of Britain, convinced it was not a war for materialistic aims. Had Canada felt the war was a materialistic struggle it might have stayed out.

Martyr to Science

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Frederick L. Truax, 25, brilliant medical student at the University of Rochester school of medicine and dentistry and a research assistant in biochemistry and radiology, died yesterday, a martyr to science. Truax took orally a new drug, an iodine compound, designed to make the gall bladder visible for X-ray purposes. Examination following death, Dr. Whipple said, showed Truax suffered from latent nephritis, a kidney ailment of which he was unaware, and as a result apparently was hyper-sensitive to the drug.

Plunges to Death

CHICAGO (AP)—Wearing a suit jacket over his pyjamas and a black sleeping mask on his forehead, Richard Jaekel, 55, widely-known New York furrier, plunged to his death yesterday from the 21st floor of a Chicago hotel. On February 5, 1940, Jaekel fell 10 floors to a New York apartment house entrance canopy, but suffered only a minor head injury.

Coming Visits Affect Kings Plans

OTTAWA (CP)—Two factors which may influence Prime Minister Mackenzie King in his decision regarding a trip to London in the near future are the projected visit to Ottawa of President Roosevelt and the impending Canadian tour of the King's brother, the Duke of Kent.

If the Prime Minister is arranging his own time for his journey to London, regardless of any Empire conference that might be called, he would probably consider these factors in fixing a date, particularly the visit of the Duke.

So far as is known here no conference of Empire leaders in London is being arranged at present. Prime Minister Menzies of Australia now is preoccupied with a tense political situation at home and Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa was reported some weeks ago as being unable to visit London for a then-proposed August conference.

Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand has been in London for some weeks and is expected to go home shortly by way of Canada and the United States.

Mr. King would have many things to discuss with British officials which would have only the most indirect interest to other Dominions and would not necessarily wait for a general conference in London to make his own journey.

Preparing For Japan

TWO IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENTS on the new situation created by Vichy's surrender to Japan in respect of concessions in French Indo-China have come from London and Washington today. Mr. Eden told the House of Commons that "certain defence measures in Malaya already have been enforced" to meet the potential threat of the Japanese occupation of neighboring territory;
he added that the British government had been "in close communication with the United States government" on the latest developments in the Far East. No details were given by the Foreign Secretary, but he promised a further statement at an early date on "the measures which His Majesty's government have prepared to meet these and other possible developments." Mr. Roosevelt announced simultaneously from his Hyde Park home that the United States would retaliate with specific action tomorrow; he, like Mr.
Eden, declined details. However, to a question whether "events in the Far East have sharply accentuated the dangers in the international situation," the chief executive parried and suggested the answer might be put this way:
"Events in the Far East are bringing a greater awareness on the part of the public to the dangers of the world situation."

Unofficial and newspaper explanations of the reasons for Japanese pressure on Vichy, of course, are on a par with similar propaganda emanating from the factory of the Herr Doktor Goebbels on the eve of all Nazi aggressions. Some of the men of Tokyo would have the world believe that French Indo-China, and perhaps Thailand as well, required protection by Japanese armed forces against the fell machinations of Brittain, the United States, the Netherlands East Indies, and China—a threat, as Mr. Eden says, that does not exist. Such action as now may be taken by Britain and the United States, however, will be in reply to Japan's avowed policy of political and territorial expansion by any means her war lords consider appropriate. Neither of the English-speaking democracies desires to fight Nippon;
both have demonstrated their desire to preserve the peace. But ever since the Japanese government in office last September subscribed to the obligations of the Axis military alliance, Japan has gradually prepared the stage for the first practical implementation of its promises. The men in charge at Tokyo obviously consider this is the time to spar for position. Be it on Nippon's own head; she knows the consequences if she goes too far in the Pacific.

It would be foolish to anticipate what Mr. Roosevelt may announce tomorrow. On one point, however, it is safe to say that when Hitler pressed Japan to threaten Vichy, knowing Vichy would have to give way under Berlin pressure, he changed the outlook of millions of people in the United States toward the "world situation" of which the President spoke today. Some of these millions are a little undecided about active American participation in the European phase of the war; they want Britain to win and they want Britain to get every form of assistance short of actual fighting by the United States. But if Japan chooses to go on the rampage and follow up the occupation of French Indo-China with threats to other territory involving American interests too deeply, Mr. Roosevelt would find it nothing like so difficult to obtain a Congressional vote for that kind of a war as he might, under existing conditions, for an Atlantic war.
Hitler, however, may bring this on himself at any time.

Better Tourist Business

THOSE IN A POSITION TO KNOW HAVE proclaimed that tourist business from the United States to Canada this year bids fair to bring better returns than appeared to be possible as the holiday season opened.
The current issue of Business Week (New York), a journal not especially interested in what travel agencies and tourist development heads think and prophesy, but which deals in fact, has this to say on the subject in its current issue:

"Growing United States interest in the Dominion's war-time efforts to aid Britain showed up unexpectedly last week in the large influx of tourists over the July 4 weekend. Since Canadians desperately need dollar exchange in order to maintain purchases south of the border, the arrival of 61,772 automobiles filled with tourists who spent freely while they were in the country was chalked up as an auspicious omen for a better tourist season than in 1940. This was 140 per cent ahead of the same holiday traffic last year."

Reports from the Rocky Mountain resorts of the two Canadian transportation systems
—a reliable index—reflect business so far in excess of the corresponding months of last year that it is reasonable to expect a substantial general improvement over the whole 1940 season. This is all to the good, because, as Business Week suggests, Canada needs every American dollar she can attract to the northern side of the 49th parallel to assist in financing the Dominion's war business with the neighboring Republic.

Bombs Versus Bombast

ONE SURE SIGN THAT THE NAZI HIGH command is experiencing troubled moments these days is reflected in a statement it issued yesterday to the effect that the Royal Air Force is "bleeding to death in a useless offensive" on Germany's western front. Nor does it improve matters by multiplying by four the number of planes lost by Britain in Wednesday's daylight raid over enemy territory—or when it describes the encounter as one of the R.A.F.'s "worst defeats." The Air Ministry's report of losses, incidentally, mentioned 10 British fighters and five bombers, and 11 German fighters known to have been destroyed. The Nazi high command put the score at 54 to 3 in Germany's favor.

The propaganda factory's accounts of air fighting between British and Nazi formations may fool some of the less imaginative of the German populace; but they will make drab reading for the people of Duesseldorf, Cologne, Hamm, Aachen, Hanover, Muenster, Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Mannheim, and other important areas. Whatever terms these folk may feel inclined to apply to the daily and nightly offensive of the Royal Air Force, they are too frequently reminded of its deadly effectiveness to believe that it is "bleeding to death." It is highly probable they will soon begin to wonder how it is that Britain's flying men are gradually pushing eastward the radius of their attentions to the Reich. The German high command had better save its stupid exaggerations and distortions of R.A.F. activities for the days and nights when American-built flying fortresses drop their "cards" on Berlin with the same monotonous regularity as that experienced by the so-called invasion ports.

They Will Pay

IN HIS STATEMENT TO THE HOUSE OF Commons this afternoon, Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, explained that the occupation of bases in southern Indo-China was taking place with the consent of Vichy, but it did not obscure the fact that Japan achieved her object by making demands and threats of force if they were not complied with.
Then he added:

"The miserable plight of the Vichy government in the face of these demands provided one further example of the blessings of collaboration with the Axis. So to the sorry tale of humiliation to which the Vichy government has subjected the French people is added the new indignity of having to accept the so-called indignity of Japan against a threat which, as everyone knows, does not exist."

One of these days, of course, sufficient of the French people in France may find a way to express their attitude toward the indignities which the Fascist-minded dupes of Berlin have brought upon them. For the present, Admiral Darlan and his fellow-conspirators, seeking only personal advantage, may find the going comparatively simple.
But payment will be exacted eventually.

Another Tune Changed

THAT ORGANIZATION IN THE NEIGH- boring Republic which called itself The American Peace Mobilization had earned for itself the stigma of being Communist-dominated has now plumped for all-out aid to the countries fighting the Axis. It proved itself one of the most voracious agencies working against Washington's policy of assistance to Great Britain, and opposed most of the steps taken to make things easier for the democracies. It is the same organization which for 40 days kept an annoying picket in front of the White House in protest against national foreign policy. The picket was withdrawn just before Hitler moved against Soviet Russia. This is the organization that was against the Lend-Lease Act, and which lauded the Stalin regime as a "great neutral" in the conflict because as such it might exercise a potent influence for peace.
But now it suddenly believes that the United States should no longer preserve any such Olympic impartiality, but should get in and pitch against the Axis—which, of course, is the same Axis it was before it attacked Russia. But this war has produced so many political somersaults that one or two more make little difference. Adolf Hitler and his gang are the culprits who must be laid by the heels.

Always, our selection among horses is the one of which the tipsters said, "This one will take a lot of beating." And does.

A Chicagoan up on a desertion charge tells the judge it slipped his mind he had a wife. Mister, that's the kind of girl to hold on to.

AND WE THOUGHT IT BIG NEWS

From Ottawa Journal

A government regulation to curtail consumption of gasoline we regarded as big news. Big news, and a world war on!

How much this tells of our real remoteness from this war! Over in England they are rationed stringently in food, even in clothing. They are forced to eat less meat, less butter and cheese; are deprived almost entirely of fresh fruits; practically know no more of oranges and lemons, while a bar of chocolate in a shop window brings wistful scores to look upon it.

Here in Canada, meanwhile, we are shocked at the idea of less gasoline for pleasure motoring. We are merely asked, of course, to buy and use less gas during 12 hours of daytime, deprived of the privilege of buying it during night. Yet we seem surprised—talk about it excitedly. No gasoline for pleasure motoring! What a war!

All of us, we fear greatly, are in for a lot of disillusionment in the days—perhaps years—ahead. In for more "big news." News that will bring more to us than a polite request to cut down on pleasure motoring.

ESCAPE MECHANISM

THE EFFORT OF THE Colonist to unload the world debate upon Mr. King is highly diverting, especially when the Colonist is seen on the record of its editorial page to have endorsed the debate, step by step, from the beginning.

The escape mechanism (as the psychologists call it) which causes many Canadians to use Mr. King as a Walling Wall and a Whipping Boy for all the mistakes of the British Empire, is interesting enough on its own account. It is the expression of a very bad conscience. It is the act of the little boy caught stealing jam and blaming his infant sister. But it would be of no real interest at a time like this if it didn't teach us some lesson about the future.

You may think it useless to dredge up all the past and to examine the record of Mr. King and the Canadian people. On the contrary, it can be of great value and may well save us from something worse. Dredging down, then, we find that Mr. King gave us in the last 20 years precisely what we wanted. He had no foreign policy. That suited us fine. He would make no commitments. We didn't want any. He would do whatever looked like a good idea at the time.
We asked no more.

AFTERTHOUGHT

NOW THERE ARE THOSE who can spin elaborate cobwebs of retrospection to prove that if Mr. King had stood firm in the Ethiopian crisis, instead of repudiating his representative at the League of Nations, who wanted to impose oil sanctions on Italy,
we could have strangled the second World War then and there, before it came to life.
There are those who insist that Mr. King had the chief responsibility, and not the British government; that he could have rammed a warlike policy down Mr. Baldwin's throat.

This may be true. At least he could have made his protest and done his best. If he had done so, and involved us in war, he probably would have been ruined. This would have been good for him, as temporary political ruin was good for Mr. Churchill.
We need politicians in Canada who are ready to go into the wilderness in a good cause rather than stay in office with a compromise. But if Mr. King did not do the wise thing in Ethiopia, if he did not repudiate Mr.
Chamberlain at Munich, whose view was he expressing? Whose mind was he reflecting?

OUR MIND

WITH HIS UNCANNY INSTINCT for understanding Canada, Mr. King was expressing our view and perfectly reflecting our mind. He expressed it always so accurately that he could express even its utter confusion. When, during all those years, he seemed to be standing in two places at once, he was expressing our mind best of all. He certainly was expressing the humble mind of this writer. I think he expressed the Colonist fairly adequately as well. Indeed, you may even suspect that Mr. King based his foreign policy on the editorial pages and signed columns of all the newspapers of Canada, whose heads were buried up to the neck in the sand.

No, the foreign policy of Canada—or, rather, the total lack of it—was the foreign policy of the Canadian people, speaking through Mr. King and, except for a few minor exceptions, approving everything that Mr. King did, or rather refused to do. It may be argued, of course, that the Canadian people would have done better if they had been led better; just as it may be argued that Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Baldwin were not worthy of the true inward spirit of the British people. That is pure speculation.
The actual facts are that the British and Canadian people were satisfied with the kind of leadership they got and have no real right to complain now.

It is useful to contemplate these things.
It would be more useful if all our politicians and the rest of us admitted publicly (preferably with some human sacrifice and the beating of drums) that we have been all wrong and are all to blame. After that we should sit down and consider what these last two years have meant to Canada.

They certainly have meant something in addition to the war. I think they have made it impossible for us ever to return to our lack of foreign policy, ever to take our foreign policy from the British government, ever to refuse to accept the responsibility of making our own foreign policy after consultation with our allies, and standing by it.
We have seen the end of isolationism in Canada as in the United States and the alternative will not be pleasant. It is, however, the only alternative left for us. The best way to face this trial is to be honest about the events which led to it. Then maybe we can be honest about those that lie ahead, instead of unloading the universe on Mr. King.

DOROTHY AND CLARE

Just before Dorothy Thompson set out from New York on her current trip by air to England, she sat at dinner across the table from Clare Boothe, with whom she had the hair-pulling match during the last U.S. Presidential election. Miss Thompson cited the various symptoms proving that Hitler is a paranoiac—quoting from his speeches and then comparing them with the case histories on paranoia. . . . "In these days," said Miss Boothe, "everyone is a bit crazy." She turned to Miss Thompson, and asked: "Dorothy, would you swear on a witness stand that you are 100 per cent sane?"
... "No," replied Miss Thompson. "Because that would be sheer insanity."

Parallel Thoughts

O God, be not far from me: O my God, make haste for my help.—Psalms 71.12.
Help thyself, and God will help thee.—
Herbert.

Elmore Philpott

LADY, who is not an Old Age Pensioner herself, writes me about plight of these worthy people. Government advises all industry to make automatic increases to workers, based on rising cost of living. Yet government has made no move to offset price increases to old people with least money.

Veteran with fighting Irish name is a bit peeved with me for lauding enlistment of women in army. He rightly points out that a large percentage of all army work done in Canada by young men, 100 per cent fit for front line fighting, could better be done by middle-aged ex-soldiers of the last war. Common sense use of our manpower in Canada, in army and out of it, could release tens of thousands of persons for duties vital to full war effort.

Former Canadian, now resident in New Zealand, likes something I wrote in March about eventual showdown between Stalin and Hitler. Hope it wasn't quite so silly as what I wrote a few days before Hitler did make the plunge. I always did expect Stalin to attack Hitler, but never did expect Hitler to attack Stalin.
Maybe Hitler figured it that way, too, and thought he might as well
pick his date for the showdown.

Another friend wants to know if Hon. Ian McKenzie really is to be Lieutenant-Governor of B.C. Doubt if he has enough of what it takes.

MALE BIRTHS

Scientist, who divides his time between research and terrific attacks on unwary newspaper writers who trespass on scientific preserves, requests my authority for saying there was an "alleged tendency" for male births to increase in wartime. See next paragraph below, in said article, at-tributing source of "alleged" part of tendency to "old legend." Surely everybody knows that such legend is part of folk-lore of all people.

P.S.—I'm no scientist. Don't profess to know why there should be more males born, even in peacetime; and why, in spite of all that, there are more old maids than old bachelors. Or are there?
I never could add up a column of figures; and quit trying to keep up with science when Einstein proved that straight lines were really curved, and consequently a straight line was not the shortest distance between two points.

MORE CHICKENS

Chinese ambassador to London coined war's best epigram when he said on September 1, 1939, that "the sky is black with chickens coming home to roost."
Since Hitler, with the help of a couple of million men, forced the Soviet into the war on our side, we are all paying for the stretching of the truth which we did.
In many parts of North America it was the fashion to paint Russia as an out-and-out ally of Germany. This, of course, never was true. Now the same people who used that device are embarrassed because they cannot instantly undo its effects in the public mind.

Russia did, in 1939, exactly what we ourselves did at Munich one year earlier—she tried to save herself from war by giving the aggressor the green light to go ahead against somebody else.
Now that Russia has failed to save herself from attack, just as dismissal as we, too, failed, we had better forget all about it.
Let bygones be bygones, and get on with the job of ridding the earth of Hitler and all his gang.

LINDERBERGH

In his San Francisco speech, Lindbergh made a remarkable statement—that Hitler was all set to invade Russia in 1939, follow-

Gift House Winner Coming to City

George H. Davey of Twin Bridges, Montana, winner of the Scottish Gift House, yesterday sent the following telegram to Mrs. Rupert Guthrie, Victoria: "Thank you for notification and congratulations. Am also delighted at being the winner. Expect to be in Victoria at an early date."

As chairman of the gift house prize-drawing committee of the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Scottish Regiment, Mrs. Guthrie, on Wednesday evening, sent a telegram of congratulation to Mr. Davey.

Air Force Blue Day Tomorrow

Tomorrow the Women's Auxiliary to the Air Force will launch its drive for funds for air services overseas. "Bally Round the Roundel" is the slogan, and the whole day will be known as "Air Force Blue Day."

For weeks the committee has been working on the plans to make this drive one of the most successful and most energetic yet attempted. Air Force pennants, made by the auxiliary, will be displayed on the streets of the city. All day long members of the auxiliary will be at their posts beside the roundels, which will be placed on the sidewalks at the busiest corners in the city. The public will be invited to place their money on the roundels, completely covering them.

The convenor of the drive is Mrs. H. W. Blenkinsop, and following is the list of captains who will be in charge of the roundels during the day: Mrs. R. H. Hale, Mrs. H. Henderson, Mrs. D. E. Sum, Miss Mary Young, Mrs. S. Anderson, Mrs. H. Kearton, Mrs. A. McKellar, Mrs. S. K. Dyson, Mrs. C. R. Slemmon, Mrs. A. Hobbis, Mrs. S. T. Sehl, Mrs. T. Jackson, Mrs. S. S. Pearce, Mrs. L. Acres, Mrs. H. Johnson, Mrs. F. J. Sanderson, Mrs. E. White, Mrs. C. Jones, Mrs. E. E. Day, Mrs. E. Blades and Mrs. A. C. Lindsay.

Miss Helen Woodcroft and Miss Priscilla Wright will display the Air Force pennants.

The Young Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church met Tuesday evening. Miss R. Rodger took charge of the meeting, continuing the study of missionary work in the Bill field, and reading appropriate Scripture. After business, refreshments were served.

JULY BRIDES—Among the season's pretty brides were, left, Mrs. Darrell Hughes, the former Flora F. Jones, who was married at St. Michael's, Royal Oak, on July 9. Right, Mrs. John Sydney Linnell, nee Janet E. Gibson, married at Central Baptist Church, on July 16.

Social and Personal

Mrs. Edna Malkin, who has been visiting in Saskatoon for two weeks, returned on Thursday to Langford.

Master Daniel Polson of Vancouver is visiting at the home of Mrs. H. A. Hinks, Holmwood, Langford.

Pilot Officer K. R. P. Sangster, R.C.A.F., returned yesterday to an east coast training centre after spending two weeks in Victoria with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sangster, 2519 Currie Road.

Mrs. E. Baker, 2307 Belmont Avenue, left this afternoon for Vancouver for a brief visit. On Sunday afternoon, she and her son, Corpl. Allan Baker, R.C.A.F., who is stationed at Jericho Beach, will leave for a holiday at the Alpine Club camp at Glacier National Park.

The W.A. to the Rainbow Sea Cadets held a silver tea and garden party on Wednesday in the gardens of the president, Mrs. R. Shanks. The house was decorated with summer flowers. Mrs. L. Lucas was in charge of tea tickets and Mrs. W. Spaven convoked the tea, helped by her committee. Mrs. J. Quinn and Mrs. W. Davis were in charge of the home cooking stall and Mrs. J. W. Cashmore had the house-hoosie stall.

Miss Winnie Jardine, who is to be married next month to Mr. Richard Linville, was honored at a delightfully-arranged shower last night at the home of Mrs. F. G. Savage, 1152 Yates Street. A color scheme of delphinium blue with coral flowers was used throughout the rooms, similar colorings decorating the tall, covered laundry basket which concealed the many beautiful gifts. Some amusing contests were enjoyed, prizes being won by the Misses Joyce Applegate and Marion Olstead. A buffet supper was served from a table decorated with a delphinium blue panel, centred with a white pottery log filled with coral sweet peas. The guests included: Mesdames E. Shadbolt, H. Zala, H. J. Applegate, W. H. Miles, K. C. Harvey, J. Bennett, Wm. Leal, D. Patterson, R. Shadbolt and R. Young, and the Misses G. and L. Hartnell, Joyce Applegate and Marion Olstead.

Mrs. Sidney Feldon, Mrs. Edward Keiser and Mrs. Chas. Lewis were joint hostesses at a shower held at the home of Mrs. W. W. McGregor, Prospect Place, Wednesday evening, in honor of her sister, Miss Jean Morley, a July bride-elect. As the guest of honor entered, Miss Margaret McGregor played the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" and Mrs. Feldon presented her with a corsage bouquet of rosebuds, and also presented a sheath of gladioli for her mother, Mrs. M. Morley. The many gifts were concealed in a novel container in the shape of a decorated egg, with a hen driven by a miniature bride. During the evening Miss Margaret McGregor entertained the guests with piano selections. Games were played, the winners being Mrs. C. Wilkinson, Mrs. M. Cook and Miss Edith Evans. A buffet supper was served from a table covered with a hand-made lace cloth and centred with a cut glass bowl of carnations and lighted by cream tapers in cut-glass holders. The guests were Mesdames M. Morley, W. W. McGregor, W. Laing, S. MacTaggart, J. W. Morley, C. W. Newbury, D. B. Macpherson, C. Wilkinson, C. M. O'Neill, C. G. McDaniel, H. Laycock, M. Cook and Misses Edith Evans and Margaret McGregor.

Miss Eileen N. Hinks, who has been visiting in Calgary and Vancouver, returned on Thursday to her home at Langford.

Miss Peggy Mertton was hostess at her home, 1039 Hillside Avenue, on Wednesday evening with a double shower for two recent brides, Mrs. Stanley Crook, formerly Ruth Bennett, and Mrs. Walter Plaxton, formerly Dorothy Henson. The two brides were presented with corsage bouquets of pink carnations, and Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Henson Sr. and Mrs. Plaxton Sr. received corsage bouquets of sweet peas and roses. Mrs. Crook received many pretty gifts in a parasol decorated in shades of pink and green, and Mrs. Plaxton's gifts were concealed beneath the skirts of an old-fashioned doll dressed in rose. A buffet supper was served from a table covered with a lace cloth and centred with a miniature bride and groom. Set before each bride was a wedding cake, and the room was lit by pale yellow candles in silver holders. Vases of sweet peas and baby's breath completed the table decorations. The invited guests included Mesdames Stanley Crook, Walter Plaxton, Bob Livsey, Bennett Sr., Henson Sr., Plaxton Sr., E. W. Mertton, A. Armstrong, B. Stewart, R. Cartwright, R. Bennett, T. Anderson, F. Pearce, W. Haapala, G. Malenfant, B. Hodgkinson, Hodnett, S. Henson, O. Henson, R. Elwood, S. Pocock, F. Chamberlain, L. Mudryk, F. Auchterlone, H. Stancombe, A. Parker, V. Young, Martin, and the Misses M. Henson, A. McMillan, B. Groth, V. Mark, V. Holmes, M. Collier, F. Mochar, E. Keeler, H. Reynolds, I. Wallace, M. Peden, G. Loughney, J. Maxwell, I. Bull, L. Erikson, E. Wallace, M. Burton, A. Stout, K. Williams, L. Harper, F. Kerry, B. Lansell, B. Armstrong, M. L. Armstrong, P. Mertton, J. Edwards, D. Gardner, F. Akhurst and M. McBeth.

Mr. J. E. Semmes is expected from Baltimore next Friday to join Mrs. Semmes at their summer home, "Robinwood," Uplands. On Sunday Rt. Rev. W. P. Remington, Bishop of Eastern Oregon, and Mrs. Remington, will arrive on their annual summer visit and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Semmes.

GIRL DRIVES TAXI—Hamilton now has girl taxi-drivers. Shown here is Miss E. Bridgewood, in the snappy uniform designed for girl drivers of her taxi company. Another woman on the same company's payroll is Miss M. Whitelaw. The girls work in the daytime only.

A number of friends of Mrs. L. Michelin, the San Sebastian, Gorge Road, took her by surprise last evening and assembled at her home for a "house warming."

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Munro of Calgary and their daughter, Miss Dorothy Munro, have left for home after visiting in Victoria with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stuart, Mackenzie Street.

Miss Edythe Rowland of Long Beach, who has been spending a month's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Smith, Vancouver Street, left today for her home in the south.

Mrs. M. J. Reynolds of San Francisco, who has been spending the last few weeks in Victoria with her nephew and niece, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. McMicking, Linden Avenue, left today for her home in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bastedo of Regina, who have been spending the last month on Vancouver Island visiting Mrs. Bastedo's mother, Mrs. A. M. Michaelis, McClure Street, and at her country home at Shawnigan Lake, will leave at the week-end for their home in Saskatchewan.

Miss Helen Woodcroft entertained at a small tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Windsor Road, in honor of Mrs. Hugh MacDonald, formerly Miss Joyce Thomson. The invited guests were Miss Ray Adamson, Miss Helen Cornwall, Miss Bunty Chatham and Miss Peggy MacDonald.

Mrs. Bruce Farris and her daughter, Miss Louise Farris, of Port Alberni, V.I., left last night for Ottawa, where the latter's marriage to Sub-Lieut. Harry C. K. Housser, R.C.N.V.R., son of Mr. George Housser of Vancouver, will take place Saturday, August 2. Mr. Bruce Farris left by Trans-Canada Airlines today for the eastern capital.

Mrs. Ted Chapman, 1821 Emerson Street, entertained a number of small guests and their mothers Wednesday afternoon, the occasion being the first birthday of Baby Bruce Chapman. Interesting games were played, the winners being Mrs. K. Waterman, Mrs. K. Cronk and Miss Vivian Anastasiou. Refreshments were served from a lace-covered table, centred with a pink and white birthday cake on which one little candle burned. The invited guests were Mrs. C. Loughridge and Gail; Mrs. K. Cronk and Gail; Mrs. W. Elliston, Kenneth and baby; Mrs. K. Waterman and Joyce; Mrs. A. Henry and Joan; Mrs. G. Karvellis, Donnie and Betty; Mrs. J. Anastasiou, with Violet, Vivian and Mary; Mrs. A. E. Smith and Ruthie; Mrs. D. Dopp and Doreen; Mrs. H. Robbins, Mrs. T. Isbister, Mrs. D. Cronk and Miss M. Isbister.

Alexandra Rose Day Nets Nearly $500

Alexandra Rose Day, held recently by the Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E. in aid of child welfare work, netted nearly $500, it was reported at the meeting of the chapter held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. K. C. Symons, the regent, presided. The sum of $25 from the proceeds was donated to the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

Mrs. J. D. Gunn, war work convenor, reported that comforts valued at $214.15, totaling 293 articles, had been turned in; also leather for windbreakers and evacuee clothing valued at $67.18. There were 93 articles in the latter. The child welfare committee, Mrs. George Mellor convenor, has taken on an additional case requiring two additional quarts of milk daily, the family including two small children in addition to the mother. Mrs. C. W. Plumb, reporting for the executive committee, mentioned a further donation received from primary chapter for soldiers' graves.

Echoes secretary, Mrs. W. Wingate, asked that primary chapter notes be sent in by the first week in August. Mrs. E. Eve issued another reminder to primary chapters to send in names of film convenors. An invitation was sent from the meeting to the Provincial Chapter to hold its annual meeting next year in Victoria, and a special request was sent to the provincial president, Mrs. Stead, to attend a meeting here in September to give a report of the annual meeting of the National Chapter, at which she acted as the chapter's delegate.

Elks' Auxiliary to Work for Solarium

The W.A. to the Elks' Club met last night with the president, Mrs. C. V. Milton, in the chair. Exalted Ruler P. Payne addressed the meeting on the work to be undertaken by the Elks for the Queen Alexandra Solarium. It was decided by the W.A. to undertake the maintenance of a cot in collaboration with the Elks. The year's work will be devoted to this end and all members are asked to enroll for this purpose. Mrs. G. Hawthorne was elected chairman of entertainment committees. Six new members were welcomed, Mesdames B. Fitzsimmons, I. Fitzsimmons, P. Payne, C. Taylor, J. Allen and J. Harroston. A delicious supper was arranged for the ladies by the Elks Club committee and was much enjoyed. The next meeting will be held August 28.

WOMAN GENERAL—The youngest and only major-general of the British army has, Mrs. Jean Knox, 33, begins her new duties at her desk in London, July 21, as chief controller of her Auxiliary Territorial Service. Note her new shoulder straps. Her first act was to announce more stylish uniforms for the A.T.S. This picture was sent by radio from London.

Bowling Club Party To Aid Bombed

Plans are well under way for the garden party to be held on Wednesday afternoon next at 3 at the home of Mrs. C. F. Banfield, 642 Craigflower Road. This event, sponsored by the Victoria Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club, is being given in aid of the bombed areas of England and Scotland.

The general conveners are Mrs. C. F. Banfield and Mrs. F. Urquhart. Mrs. Bullock and Miss D. Dobson will be in receipt of customs and afternoon tea will be served by Mrs. A. McKeachie as convenor, assisted by Mesdames W. B. Morrison, E. M. Lorimer, J. Keating, Clyde Banfield, Howard Reid, W. G. Drew, H. J. Shepherd, T. Cole, Howard Leggett and Horace Shandley. Cup reading will be given by Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. F. Butterfield. The home cooking stall will be in charge of Mrs. H. Wright, convenor, assisted by Mrs. J. Terry and Mrs. J. Petrie; the popular novelty stall by Mrs. J. G. Cromack, Mrs. H. McConnell and Mrs. C. Harding; ice cream stall, Mrs. J. Kyle and Mrs. T. A. Simmons. There will also be novelty games, including bingo in charge of Mrs. A. Shotbolt and Mrs. J. H. Delf, and "smash Hitler." Take No. 5 street car to the gate.

Fourteen types of land and naval guns now are being made, or soon to be made in Canada.

Women's Section at Fair To Be Big One

Offering prizes totaling more than $725, and listing classes covering every branch of domestic effort and arts and craft, the women's department of the 80th annual fair of the B.C. Agricultural Association to be held at the Willows from September 6 to 13 promises to be one of the main attractions this year. Women's Institutes have been provided four special classes this year. These exhibits will be of a collective character, thus forming some fine mass displays of home-craft work.

The type of work covered by the various classes in the women's section is as follows: Linen work, knitting and crochet work in silk and in wool, best use of British Columbia wool, weaving, basketry, arts and crafts, plain needlework, thrift classes, quilts, rugs, bedspreads, etc.

There are several classes for women over seventy years of age, and also for girls. A good part of the competition is given over to domestic science activities.

In all there are 247 classes in this department of the fair, and stimulating interest in the work many merchants have put up special prizes in addition to those awarded by the fair association.

Was Organizer of Eastern Star Here

Funeral service will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1.30 at the Thomson Funeral Home, Rev. G. A. Reynolds officiating, for Mrs. Helen Margaret Richdale, prominent lodge woman and resident of this city for 47 years, who died yesterday at her home, 62 Linden Avenue.

Mrs. Richdale was born in Hoboken, N.J., and came to Victoria in 1894 from the United States to make her home here. A woman of unusual organizing ability and keenly interested in lodge work, Mrs. Richdale in 1911 founded the Queen City Chapter, Eastern Star, the first chapter of the order here, and was its first worthy matron.

She was later made a life member of the chapter. She was past grand organizer of the Grand Chapter of British Columbia of the Eastern Star. In 1925 Mrs. Richdale organized the Oak Bay Chapter No. 42 of the order, and was an honorary member. She also organized the Victoria branch of the Order of the Amaranth, of which she was the first royal matron.

Britain Moves to End Serious Nurse Shortage

British nurses, who have done heroic war work in bomb-blasted England, are "out for their rights."

LONDON—The noblest of all professions open to women—caring for the sick and tending the wounded—is clamoring for recruits. There is a grave shortage of nurses in England, and the government has for some months past been making a special appeal to women called up for national registration to volunteer as nurses. It is revealed that fever and tuberculosis hospitals are desperately in need of trained personnel. Why? Because nurses have never had a fair deal.

Since the outbreak of war, literally hundreds of capable, fully-trained young women have abandoned the nursing profession to take up war work. The reason is easy to find. The munition factory or the services offered more scope and far better pay.

To remedy this state of affairs, the authorities have been planning a Nurse's Charter. It would make nursing a reasonably-paid, instead of the most disgracefully-paid profession, with all the benefits attached to others, such as teaching, for instance.

WANT BETTER PAY

Before going any further, it might be pointed out that British nurses were not only just about the worst-paid, but also the most hard-worked in the world.

Britain's nursing body is out for its rights. It demands that existing salaries be doubled. Thus a staff nurse would then get between $450 and $650 a year; a ward nurse (head floor nurse) from $650 to $850, and senior tutor nurses from $1,200 to $2,000. Matrons' minimum salary would start at $1,000, according to the number of beds in the hospital.

Other demands include the establishment of a pensioning system, the provision of indoor and outdoor uniforms, as well as the removal of unnecessary red tape and high-handed dictatorial powers masquerading as discipline.

Of the many questions occupying the attention of the Royal College of Nursing, besides those set out above, is the matter of better conditions for the probationer. In most hospitals, even now, she is treated more or less in the form of cheap labor. Scrubbing floors, cleaning windows, polishing brass and all other such chores should no longer be the lot of the student nurse. Dirty, inadequate living quarters, long, uninterrupted working hours are other abuses which must be abolished.

Free training, of course, is given in any of the big metropolitan and provincial hospitals. Girls can sign on for the duration of the war as members of the Civil Nursing Reserve, or take up nursing as their life's career. The matron of one particular London hospital stated that there were 80 students always in training, 40 in the main building in London, 40 at the base military hospital in the country.

JOB HAS FASCINATION

An interesting sidelight on probationers is that but few change their minds during the training period. The fascination of the work generally "gets" a girl within a week or two, even if she is only half-hearted to begin with. Nursing is a job with an inspiration—it is intensely human and touches the heart and the emotions, and calls for the highest qualities.

SEEK 'SUPERWOMEN'

Four women are to form the main governing body which is to control the nurses of Great Britain and help turn nursing into a real profession. At the top is Miss Florence Horsburgh, Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Health. Second in command is Miss Katherine Watt, Chief Matron of the Emergency Hospital Service.

The government is now looking for the remaining two, whose qualifications must just simply be those of "superwomen." One must be qualified to exercise control over all nursing staffs of every hospital in the country. The other will have charge of all sorts of nurses, from the district nurses to those in public shelters.

Leaders in the demand for the proposed Nurses' Charter visualize the day when the nursing profession will be nationalized, with nurses receiving standard rates of pay. Such government control would be unanimously welcomed and would make for better and more uniform conditions.

BACK FROM 'OURTOWN'

Victoria would make an ideal location for a summer theatre group such as those in existence in the eastern United States and Canada, declares Gregory Crawley, returned to Victoria to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Crawley, Beach Drive.

Mr. Crawley will be remembered for outstanding work in connection with the Beaux Arts Society of which he was a member before he left Victoria three years ago with a scholarship which took him to Kingsmith School, Washington, D.C.

Mr. Crawley has had many experiences, met some famous theatrical people and had considerable success in his chosen field, both as actor and director. He is present assistant director of the drama department at Colby Junior College, New London, New Hampshire, a town doubly interesting to the theatrical profession as the inspiration and actual scene of Thornton Wilder's highly successful play, "Our Town."

Enthusiasm for the summer theatre was the keynote to Mr. Crawley's remarks, although he feels that the idea will not develop to any extent, due to difficulties of financing. The summer theatre has been very effective as a proving ground for young, unproved talent and sent numbers of stars to Broadway and Hollywood. It takes up its residence in various summer colonies, playing in converted barns, churches and other small buildings which hold audiences of only two or three hundred; the groups being organized as professional companies, generally built around a nucleus of two or three stars.

SUCCESSSES

Mr. Crawley's first important role after leaving this city and Seattle where he studied at the Cornish School, was in Cyrano de Bergerac, produced at the Sylvania Theatre in Washington, D.C.

Later he became head of the drama and speech department at Assumption and Holy Name Colleges and of the Windsor Theatre Guild at Windsor, Ont. Last summer was spent acting and directing with the Plymouth Players, a summer theatre group at Myford near New Haven, Connecticut. This company was notable because of the absence of stars, but Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the English actress who died last year in New York, made her last appearance at Myford with the Plymouth Players.

Mr. Crawley has played leading roles in, or directed about 80 plays in the period of three years. Among them are: "Our Town," "Margin for Error," "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," "One Sunday Afternoon," "No Time for Comedy," "Night Must Fall," "Personal Appearance" and "Stage Door."

Mr. Crawley said that audiences in the west are equally discerning as those in the east, and in many instances even more enthusiastic in their reception of good legitimate theatre. The summer theatre, bringing as it does, opportunity of seeing the latest New York and London successes, is a strong tourist attraction and therefore distinctly beneficial to the community at large. He expressed the hope that a summer theatre group might be brought to Victoria next summer, if the co-operation of the civic authorities and citizens could be obtained and necessary financial and other arrangements made.

With the Forces

R.C.A.F. Solves Own Haircut Problem

EDMONTON (CP)—Officers of No. 4 initial training school, R.C.A.F., decided last night to solve the current haircut problem among airmen themselves.

After discussing the problem with representatives of the Master Barbers' Union, three city airmen and the mayor, the R.C.A.F. officers said they would establish a barber shop at the school which would be open nightly to give several hundred airmen their required one haircut per week.

At a council meeting last Monday, the officers asked the city council to allow several barber shops in the Garneau district, where the school is located, to remain open from 6 to 8 p.m., to serve the trainees.

Members of the Master Barbers' Union opposed the suggestion, saying it would be a violation of the 6 p.m. closing by-law. They agreed to supply men to work on school premises each night. R.C.A.F. said there was no room on school premises, so said they would establish their own barber shop.

No Walking Out Of Army

REGINA (CP)—Baffled, the young buck private who "resigned" from His Majesty's service this week was back in uniform today reading a brand new copy of the King's rules and regulations—in the guard house.

He simply did not realize he was doing any harm by leaving his barracks and writing a note to his O.C. He thought the army better off without him.

Even his cheering wish "best of luck, carry on Canada," did not alter the army regulations in his favor, and a provost company escort was sent out from Regina to bring him back.

The uniform he mailed back to Regina's army depot was waiting for him on his return. While bumping into the city in one of the army's sturdy station wagons, a chummy provost explained to the errant recruit a few facts of his breach of discipline.

It was learned the recruit, whose case has been remanded, will not be treated harshly. Expenses incurred in bringing him back to his unit will be deducted from his pay cheque.

Meeting war-time needs

The new "VICTORY POLICY"

Whatever your job, whatever your income, you should be investing regularly in War Savings Certificates. Yet your family needs adequate protection, too!

The new "Victory Policy" developed by The Mutual Life of Canada enables you to meet both these essential needs. Premiums are exceedingly low for a fixed period of years, while you are investing in War Savings Certificates. And even at the end of this period, when the rate is adjusted, the premium is still lower than you would normally pay. You will be able to use the proceeds of your War Savings Certificates as they mature to pay the premiums.

Permanent protection

The "Victory Policy" is a permanent plan of life insurance. It has been specially prepared to meet your immediate needs and to provide future protection as well. The new "Victory Policy" is available to every adult who is insurable... and is especially attractive to men and women with modest incomes.

Ask your nearest Mutual Life representative for complete details of this plan. Or write to The Mutual Life of Canada, Waterloo, Ont.

Ted Schroeder Beats Champion

SEABRIGHT, N.J. (AP)—Don McNeill whose lease on the national singles title is fast running out, and Frankie Parker, until now the man of the hour in amateur tennis, were blasted out of the 54th annual Seabright invitation tennis tournament yesterday in a pair of upsets that left the men's field with only one of its seeded stars.

McNeill was relegated to the sidelines by 20-year-old Ted Schroeder 6-3, 7-5, and Wayne Sabin touched off the day's second bombshell by crushing Parker 6-2, 6-4.

The other quarter-final round matches ran true to form as second-seeded Bobby Riggs of Chicago, the defending champion, conquered Jack Kramer 8-6, 6-2, and Gardner Mulloy trounced Ladislav Hecht of New York 6-2, 6-0 in the lower half of the draw. The men's doubles also produced a genuine upset as Schroeder and Kramer, national titleholders, were put out in the second round by the newly-formed California team of Kovacs and William Crosby 6-3, 7-5.

The women's doubles finals were gained by the teams of Sarah Palfrey Cooke and Margaret Osborne, and Pauline Betz and Dorothy Bundy. Mrs. Cooke and Miss Osborne eliminated Helen Bernhard and A. Louis Broughton 6-1, 7-5, and the Betz-Bundy duo vanquished Mary Arnold and Hope Knowles 6-4, 2-6, 6-2.

SETS SWIM MARK

HONOLULU (AP)—Bill Smith, 17-year-old Maui lad, bettered the world swimming record for the 800 metres men's freestyle last night by stroking the distance in 9 minutes 50.9 seconds.

The record of 9 minutes 55.8 seconds was established by S. Makino of Japan in Tokyo September 15, 1935.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dolph Camilli, Brooklyn first baseman, left the club yesterday for a physical examination at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore. Camilli has been ill for about two weeks with the result his batting average slumped and this week he was removed from the starting line-up in the game with Cincinnati.

TO MEN WHO ARE NOT LAZY...

But Just Can't Get Going

You say you are not the man you used to be! Check up on yourself in the mirror. If your eyes are muddy and dull and your tongue is coated as well, then you're not as well as you should be.

But there are other symptoms. Food doesn't interest you. Little things get on your nerves. You fall asleep when you should be awake. You try to get out of visiting friends or going to the movies. Worse, you are too tired for your job. You're not lazy—you just can't get going. What's the cause? Your bloodstream isn't clear. There are toxins in it. Poisonous waste is in your system. Get rid of it. Kruschen is the thing for that.

There are several mineral salts in Kruschen, balanced in exact proportions to assist the organs of excretion to get rid of waste matter every day. Kruschen is more than a laxative. It is a diuretic as well—helps to flush the kidneys and at the same time keep the colon moist, so that action is easy and gentle. A pinch of Kruschen every morning is all you need.

Kruschen costs only 25c or 75c, at all druggists. Good health for less than a cent a day.

YOUNG STUDENTS VISIT VICTORIA

A second party of the boys and girls traveling under auspices of the Students' International Travel Association of New York visited Victoria yesterday and today.

This party, unlike a group which arrived here earlier this week, traveled exclusively by train and boat. The earlier group used bicycles for side-trips.

The young students, conducted by Mrs. M. E. Harby, stayed at the Douglas Hotel and were guests of the Phalanx Club of the Y.M.C.A. on a tour of the Saanich Peninsula, and later a beach party at Cordova Bay.

After visiting Vancouver, they will return to the United States.

Junior Chamber Plans Scrap Drive

A drive to collect aluminum will be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce this fall, a committee decided yesterday.

W. H. Mearns, president, told members that Mayor Andrew McGavin had suggested a vacant lot at Pandora Avenue and Blanshard Street as a suitable depot.

In suitable form aluminum could be sold at a good price. A. H. Pease, organizer of the Salvage Corps of British Columbia, informed the committee. He said aluminum utensils would have to be flattened and sacked before shipment to dealers, and would not be acceptable if iron handles still were attached.

Mr. Pease thanked the Junior

Chamber for its interest in the campaign to collect scrap metal. Mr. Pease said today aluminum ware with handles still attached would be accepted from individual contributors at the salvage depot, but that more help was needed at the depot to do such work as removing handles and flattening the pots and pans.

An Aberdeen, Scotland, upholsterer bequeathed $25,000 to Aberdeen University for scholarships although he never earned more than $15 a week.

'Genuine Danger,' Defeatist

British-Israelites Worried By Fifth Column Charges

TORONTO—Toronto Saturday Night's attack on British-Israelism as a fifth column menace to Canada has sent British-Israelites across the country into conferences to decide what they should do if action should follow to place theirs among other outlawed sects.

According to Saturday Night's revelations, the British-Israelite menace has become a "genuine danger" because the sect has undertaken a vigorous campaign against any military co-operation with Russia and this campaign seeks to undermine announced policy of the British government.

It is charged that British-Israel propaganda is defeatist and is working to weaken the military effort of this country against Hitler. Saturday Night says: "The first of these practical dangers is that, while faith in our cause and the identification of our cause with the will of God may be quite defensible, the chosen people idea is always a peril since it may induce a false confidence. Edward Hine stated categorically in 1871 that, since the British were God's chosen people, Britain did not need to spend so much on national defence. God would take care of her. Now if the future of Britain is all clearly laid down in the pyramids and in prophecy, why should we worry unduly about her defence? Why not be logical? If we are under the particular aegis of God, can we not count on Him to send, if not 10 cohorts of angels, at least 15 panzer divisions? Or a blinding snowstorm in July? But we know that other countries have fallen because they did not have enough airplanes and tanks, and that Britain miraculously escaped because she had a navy and her island was surrounded by a moat."

BOSSING THE WORLD

"Secondly, if we begin to shout aloud that we Anglo-Saxons are God's chosen people and that he has predestined us to boss the world, will the enslaved non-Anglo-Saxon nations whom we are pledged to liberate really believe in our disinterested intentions? Why should we blazon abroad that we are God's white-haired children, and that it is our destiny to rule the world? The people of India with many other 'English-speaking' people within our Empire may not appreciate our theory of election. Neither will the Chinese, Japanese, Arabs, Greeks, Yugoslavs, French, Belgians, Dutch, Czechs, Slovaks, Danes, Norwegians, even if we generously widen the circle of our ancestors somewhat to include some of the more 'Aryan' of these nations among the truly circumcised. The ultimate victory in this war may be contingent, at least in part, on the continued faith of these subjected people in our desire for their full restoration to a position of parity with ourselves."

NAIVE BELIEF

"Thirdly, when we espouse these religio-political theories, we are giving our enemies an opportunity to scoff at our intelligence and our motives. One of the consuls of the countries with which we are now at war, in a conversation with a Canadian some time before he left Canada for a cooler climate, mentioned the fact that Canadian Protestants were crazy, and he added, as evidence of his contention, that they believed that they were descendants of the 10 lost tribes and God's chosen people! The Canadian with whom he conversed had great difficulty in disabusing his mind of his naive belief, and persuading him that only a small minority of Canadians harbored such illusions. But if the people of Germany or Italy really began to believe that we thought we had been chosen by God to rule the world, they might quite properly feel that, no matter what the cost, they would have to carry on the fight against such fanatics. This is no light consideration. It deserves serious attention. Within the last few weeks, I was discussing the war with one of the outstanding churchmen of Europe. I told him that when we had won the war, British, Canadian and American peoples would have to assume a great deal of responsibility for the maintenance of world stability, but I added that I was opposed to any attempt to set up permanently an Anglo-American hegemony of the world. I was surprised and all but overcome when this European Christian, thoroughly devoted to the allied cause, thanked me, almost with tears in his voice, for the expression of such an opinion!

"Fourthly, if we permit the Anglo-Israelites to gain any considerable hearing in Canada, we shall have here a movement on all fours with the neo-paganism of Alfred Rosenberg and his substitution of the Aryan myth for the adoration of the universal God-Man. There is no essential difference between the attempted apotheosis of the Aryan, Nordic, German on the one hand, and the apotheosis of the Anglo-Saxon on the other. We may well believe that the English-speaking peoples have had entrusted to them at this crucial moment the magnificent task of defending human liberty for the centuries to come, and even that, millennia hence, generations will rise up and call us blessed; but to exalt this into a theory of God's chosen people is to indulge in a kind of racial arrogance which not even an Anglo-Saxon, English-speaking God can very well approve."

CONSIDER FRENCH

"Fifth, here in Canada, the Anglo-Saxon portion of our population is now less than 50 per cent, and one of the most hopeful developments in the present war is the great unity we are effecting with our French-speaking compatriots in its prosecution. From a perusal of the French press it is clear that our French-speaking compatriots increasingly regard the struggle as being theirs as much as ours. Under these circumstances, it is hardly diplomatic, to say the least, to invite them to collaborate with us in an effort to establish the rule of the Anglo-Saxons throughout the whole world."

MYTH TO AMERICANS

"Sixthly, we are eager to have in this war the full collaboration of the people of the United States. For a long time the Anglo-Israelites have been divided as to the relation of the United States to the 10 lost tribes. Some held that England was Ephraim and that Scotland was Manasseh, and that the United States was the 12 tribes regathered. (The Book of Mormon makes more sense than that). Another school held that Great Britain was the 10 tribes under the leadership of Ephraim and that the United States was the tribe of Manasseh with a scattering of the others! During the last war, Our Race Quarterly, published in New Haven, expressed the wish that the whole matter might be fully discussed, since 'the complexity of the people making up the population of these United States' seemed to suggest some modification of the theory! So say we all! The United States are English-speaking to be sure, but if the Anglo-Saxons are the 10 lost tribes, then in the United States they have got themselves lost again, and this time for good! To the majority of American people, the British-Israel illusion is just another myth, and if we give it any place in our national thinking we shall only merit their justified contempt.

DANGEROUS

"On these practical grounds, Anglo-Israelism is dangerous. The main philosophical objections need mere mention. In the first place, if God has predetermined the history of the world and written it down in the Pyramids in everlasting stone chambers, then where in all this giddy world is there any place at all for the freedom of the will, and if there is no place for the freedom of the will, what is the basis of morality?"

"Beyond that, even if we manipulated the Scriptures as do the Anglo-Israelites, it is as plain as a pikestaff that the promises to the people of the covenant were always conditional. God would bless his people only so long as they obeyed Him. As Dr. Goudge wisely says: 'Failure to grasp this vitates throughout the British-Israelite argument from prophecy. It rests continually on the British-Israelite belief in 'unconditional' promises; and in a world ruled by a God of righteousness such promises have no existence. To say that they have is to deny to God that freedom of action which must belong to Him in His dealing with such creatures as ourselves.'"

Prusoff Beaten By Bob Odman

SEATTLE (AP)—Two stunning upsets dropped Hank Prusoff, Seattle seeded No. 1, and Harold Wagner, San Francisco, No. 2, out of the Washington State tennis tournament yesterday, with Bob Odman, University of Washington tennis team's first player, accounting for Prusoff.

Prusoff, ranked 8th nationally in the men's singles last year, won the first set from Odman, 6-3, but dropped the second, 8-6, after running up a 4-1 lead. He went completely to pieces in the third set, which Odman ran out 6-0.

Gurley accounted for Wagner, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, after trouncing Mel Dranga of Seattle, placed eighth in the rankings, Wednesday. Wagner was the Washington State titleholder two years ago.

Gurley's win sent him into the semifinals.

Nick Carter, San Francisco, new Pacific Northwest men's singles champion, trounced another San Franciscan, John Murio, three-time winner of the Washington men's singles title, in another three-setter. The score was 4-6, 6-3, 8-6.

Marching Soldier Injured By Car

Private Alexander Watt of the Lincoln & Welland Regiment suffered a broken hip yesterday when knocked down by a car driven by Mrs. Gertrude White, Henry Street, Victoria, while he was marching along the highway, two miles south of Ladysmith, with other troops on their way to Nanaimo.

Private Watt was acting as point man for the troops when the accident occurred. This is the first accident of its kind to be reported on the island.

An investigation is being made by Constable L. Buxton of the B.C. police at Ladysmith.

The injured man was taken to Nanaimo Military Hospital. Traffic on the highway was disrupted for 30 minutes by the accident.

Ferry Charter Clause Canceled

The provincial government has agreed to be responsible for the maintenance and repair of the ferry landings at Schwartz Bay and Fulford Harbor used by the Gulf Islands Ferry Company for the Salt Spring Island ferry, it was announced today. This will relieve the company of the responsibility for this maintenance entailed in its original ferry charter.

Direct Dominion taxation is expected to raise 2 1/2 times as much money in 1941-42 as in the previous year.

The strength of the Royal Canadian Air Force today is more than 10 times what it was at the outbreak of war.

Dutch Woman Refused Readmittance to U.S.

SEATTLE (AP)—L. A. Varkamp, builder and contractor, told interviewers here he had appealed to the U.S. immigration and naturalization service and to Congressmen to aid his wife, Maria, 55, who has been denied readmittance to the United States and has spent the fifth consecutive day in a tourist camp near New Westminster.

Mrs. Varkamp, a native of the Netherlands and a Seattle resident 25 years, her husband said, was held at the line last Sunday through admitted ignorance of re-entry requirements, following the Varkamps' custom of an annual one-day visit to Canada.

He said Mrs. Varkamp was to have appeared at the immigration office here July 31 for preliminary hearing on her U.S. citizenship application, but that he was advised the negotiations for her return may keep her in Canada two or three months.

The Varkamps have four grown children.

ST. ANN'S FOREARM CAUSES MIRACLES

NEW YORK—Annual Novena to Saint Ann is on here at the Roman Catholic Church of St. Jean Baptiste, with thousands of pilgrims coming to worship at the shrine of the Mother of the Virgin Mary.

A sacred relic, which is a fragment of the forearm of Saint Ann herself, is exposed to veneration and is applied to the sick daily during the Novena, with many miraculous cures being reported.

Board to Fill School Vacancies

The Saanich School Board will interview several applicants for positions on the municipality's teaching staff at a special meeting on Monday evening.

Appointments will be made to fill two vacancies in the high school staff and four in the staffs of the elementary schools.

Applications for these positions were given preliminary consideration by the board last night.

The Rotary Club deviated from its usual program yesterday to present a typical program committee meeting under direction of Jim Beattie. The committee showed the way in which luncheon programs were arranged and how different subjects were decided upon. Ab. Lindsay, president of the club, who recently returned from the Rotary District 101 conference at Kelowna, gave a short synopsis of the two-day meeting at the Okanagan city. The next convention will be held in Vancouver in June of next year.

Refuses Hitler's Peace Offer

SAN DIEGO, Cal. (AP)—Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, told Consolidated Aircraft employees yesterday the Royal Air Force intended to use the company's long-range bombers to "alter the outward appearance" of Berlin.

In an interview after inspection of the huge plant, Lord Halifax disclosed he planned to fly to London next month, probably in a Consolidated bomber, to report to his government. He said the situation in the Far East did not "look so good."

BLOWS FOR FREEDOM

Lord Halifax told the aircraft workers they were "striking blows for freedom."

"I feel a greater feeling of confidence in what is to be the end of all this trouble as I look here into your faces," he said. "Each of you, as you drive a rivet, strike a blow for freedom so that we can answer force with force."

On the bombing of Berlin, the ambassador said:

"As the nights get longer, the Liberator bombers you send to us will be sent over Berlin, and we hope to be able to alter the outward appearance of that city and make some parts of it look like London now."

The ambassador wrote a note on a tail surface of a Liberator bomber, directing his message to Prime Minister Churchill.

"Dear Mr. Churchill," said the message. "There are 100 more like this on their way to help you finish the job."

Asked if he believed American troops would be necessary to win the war against Germany, Lord Halifax said Americans could rely on the statement of the British Prime Minister that if the United States provided the tools—planes, ships and materials—"we will finish the job."

HITLER KNOWS

"Hitler and the German people know that unless they can break down Great Britain, that little country you could put in your state of Virginia, they have not won the battle nor solved the problem," said the ambassador.

"Great Britain is the spearhead that resists Nazi tyranny. Great Britain is the bridgehead for the counterattack on Germany and the German government. Hitler is going to concentrate all his force and strength trying to destroy us before you are ready to take on the challenge."

Hitler was the world's greatest liar, the ambassador assured the workers.

"Whatever assurance that man might give he surely would be lying," Halifax said. "Any interruption of hostilities would be only to get himself in better shape to attack again."

SEES PEACE OFFER

The ambassador warned that Hitler may offer peace terms after his finishes his Russian adventure.

"But when he turns around and offers a negotiated peace we in England will not trouble to answer a letter with his signature at the foot of it."

Alluding to the situation in the Far East, Halifax said:

"You on the Pacific coast must be conscious that in other parts of the world things are happening that are important to you. Let us be ready for danger from whatever quarter. But we should let nothing distract us from the main job of destroying Hitler and his Nazi gang who have brought untold suffering unto this world."

No Pork Price Boost Foreseen in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Agricultural Department officials reaffirmed a general increase in domestic fresh pork and bacon prices is unlikely, in spite of a Winnipeg packing house, official's estimate that prices there would rise from 1/2 to 2 cents a pound next Monday.

A bacon board spokesman said time would tell whether prices would rise, but a general rise was not expected by officials although it was possible that isolated markets would get out of line temporarily. Domestic market conditions did not seem to indicate a rise was coming.

Increase of $1 per hundred-weight in the seaboard price paid Canadian Packers for export bacon and a ban on shipment of hogs to other than Empire countries were announced last Tuesday, along with a 25 per cent reduction in the amount of pork products which may be distributed for domestic use.

By PETE SALLAWAY

A START has been made on Victoria's new ice arena to be located in the Horse Show Building at the Willows. That will be welcome news to thousands of Victorians. Yesterday afternoon we paid a visit to the building and after watching workmen busily tearing out stalls and trucks unloading cinders on the future ice surface we engaged Barney Olson, who is going to give this city another ice skating surface, in conversation on his plans for the arena.

From our talk with Olson we can assure skating and hockey devotees they are going to have the privilege of patronizing a plant that will rank with the finest in Canada for its size. Take the ice freezing equipment for instance. It will be direct expansion of the same type now in use at that famous resort at Sun Valley, Idaho. "They skate indoors during the summer at that spot while the temperature outside hovers around 90 degrees," Olson told us. "That gives you an idea of just how this equipment can make ice under the toughest conditions. It will be automatic and will provide the skaters with number one ice regardless of the size of the crowd."

Olson informed us his equipment will be in Victoria by September 1 and immediately following the close of the annual fall fair work on the installation of the pipes will start. "They have assured me this work will only take three weeks so that there should be no trouble having the arena ready for its scheduled opening on October 15. At the present time I plan to keep the doors open for six months."

Another indication of the great improvement made in ice machinery is the fact that the new arena will be able to put in an ice surface in 24 hours. In the old days under the brine system it would take around 72 hours continual freezing to put in a surface suitable for skating. Everything for the comfort of the patrons will be provided at the new rink. Dressing rooms will be heated while the strip rooms for the hockey players will be provided with showers. It is planned to have double check rooms and a large refreshment concession. Olson stated yesterday he was planning every convenience to make his plant modern and to make skating and hockey a real pleasure for his patrons.

It is planned to have two daily skating sessions, afternoon and evening. Amateur hockey will take up one night a week. Hockey plans are a little vague right now. It is likely Victoria will have a team in the same league along with Nanaimo, New Westminster and Vancouver, while a local league may also operate. Ground work on these plans is now being accomplished and further announcements will be made in the near future.

We questioned Olson about professional hockey prospects for the coming winter. "The only way in which I would be interested in pro hockey would be for other interests to back the team here and rent the arena for their practices and games," he said. "I have no desire to get mixed up in professional hockey myself but would be only too willing to give any outside sponsors my fullest co-operation."

In our opinion Olson will not have to worry about pro hockey the first season. We have an idea the arena is going to prove so popular Barney will have his hands full looking after his skating public. The young folk of the town are already talking about skating this winter and here we are still in the middle of summer. Met one chap on the street and he said: "I'll go out for my first skate about a month after the opening then maybe I'll be able to get a little ice. The first month is going to see the place jammed to capacity."

Real Rowing Oddity

Dead Heat Occurs

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont. (CP)—History was made on the historic Royal Canadian Henley course of the old Welland Canal as the first dead heat of the regatta's 59 years was rowed yesterday.

Opening day of the 59th Henley found the traditional rivals—Buffalo Westsides and Toronto Argonauts—locked in another duel for the aggregate championship held by the Buffalo oarsmen. At the end of the day, they were tied with 19 points with two victories and a second each in the four finals.

But the whole day's proceedings paled into insignificance besides the merry pile-up in the final event of the afternoon—the open quarter-mile singles dash that attracted a 10-man entry, one of the biggest ever to come out for a single race.

Harvey Hutcheon of St. Catharines and Art Gallagher of the Penn A.C. sculled almost the complete distance bow to bow and at the finish they could not be separated by the judges. But that wasn't all. Neither the judges nor the competitors could pick a third so closely bunched were the others behind the double winners.

Hutcheon and Gallagher were to meet in a special race before the opening of today's program to decide the dash championship.

Longacres' Jockey Strike

Meet Delayed Hour

SEATTLE (AP)—A short-lived jockeys' strike tied up the Longacres race track an hour yesterday but fans got their money's worth when Squaw Man, ridden by Clint Wagner, paid $186.90 to win on a $2 ticket in the second race and today the fees' question was amicably settled.

Under the agreement, a scale of paying jockeys $15 on winning mounts, $7.50 on place and show horses and $5 on other horses in all $405 purse races will be tried out a week. The present $25 on a winning horse and $10 on all other mounts in $905 purse races will be continued, with the Washington Jockey Club guaranteeing five such races a day, or making up the difference to jockeys.

A committee of leading jockeys, Keith Watson, Bobby Varner, Doug Dodson, Grant Zufelt, Charles Ralls and R. W. Smith, met with club officials last night in working out the new scale. After yesterday's strike, the jockey's accepted former Racing Commissioner Frank Brewster as an arbitrator.

All Tied Up In Dangerous Sport

Legs tied and biting the dust is calf as roper slithers to safety while judge drops flag at thrill-packed annual Calgary Stampede, world series of rodeos. Attendance record was broken when 250,000 spectators, including many airmen training in western Canada, watched dangerous sport at its wildest.

Cards Show Fight

Hurdle Brooklyn

There will never be another "gas house gang" until there is another Pepper Martin, but the present St. Louis Cardinals are the next best thing.

They are a hard-hitting, fast-running, never-say-die gang with eight hitters batting over .300 and seven pitchers with a winning percentage, four of them having a combined won-lost record of 36-11.

They have a bristling, fierce-eyed boss named Billy (The Kid) Southworth who plays his cards with an abandon never equalled in the major leagues.

This explains how the Redbirds have performed such phenomena as winning 20 games by one run and one pitcher, Ernie White, winning three games in three days to sweep an entire series from one club, the New York Giants.

The Cardinals nosed out the Giant 3 to 2 yesterday to bag their second extra-inning game in two days, and White, last of four pitchers used by Southworth, fanned two men in the 10th to get credit for his 10th triumph of the season.

In the 10th Enos Slaughter singled and Jim Brown doubled for the winning run, giving the Cards their fifth straight victory and exclusive possession of the National League lead, one-half game ahead of the idle Brooklyn Dodgers.

The defeat tossed the Giants into a fourth place tie with the Pittsburgh Pirates, who edged out the Phillies 3 to 2 in the ninth for their 19th victory in 26 games.

Babe Dahlgren's sixth-inning homer, his 14th of the season, snapped a tie and gave the Chicago Cubs a 5 to 4 victory over his former teammates, the Boston Braves, in the other National League game.

DICKEY BEANED

New York Yankees continued their triumphant stride at the front of the American League, beating Cleveland Indians 4 to 1 and stretching their first-place margin to 10 games.

Catcher Bill Dickey was beaned by one of Jim Bagby's fast balls, but the blow was a glancing one and he was able to walk off the field unassisted, apparently not shaken up. However, he was kept in hospital overnight.

Philadelphia Athletics made 13 hits, including homers by Sam Chapman and Benny McCoy, to whip St. Louis Browns 9 to 7 and take over fifth place from the Detroit Tigers, who were beaten again by the Washington Senators 6 to 5.

The Boston Red Sox retaliated for Wednesday's shelling by Chicago White Sox with an 11 to 1 thrashing of the Chicago crew. Jim Tabor hit a homer with the bases loaded and doubled two other runs across.

COAST LEAGUE

The Seattle Rainiers moved within a half game of the second-place San Diego Padres by beating the Portland Beavers 4 to 3 last night as the Coast League leaders, the Sacramento Solons, were registering their second straight triumph over the Padres 6 to 0.

The Rainiers came from behind after spotting the Beavers to a 3 to 0 lead to take their second straight of the current series in the Seattle lot. They were helped along the victory path by the wild tossing of Ad Liska, Portland's little right-hander. A base on balls on Al Niemie started the Rainiers on their way to a three-run collection that wiped out the Beaver lead in the sixth.

Navy Fighters In Main Event

A couple of navy scrappers, Killer Larson and V. A. Gillespie, will battle in the main boxing bout of tonight's outdoor card at the Cycledrome, Douglas Street. They are light-heavyweights and both are reported to pack plenty of power in their dukes.

The show will start at 8. In the semi-main event Dick Buxton has been matched with Roy Speller at 115 pounds. A couple of 90-pounders, Tom Bradley and Orle LeBus will battle, while Jim Riley will trade blows with Stan Wallace at 75 pounds.

Wrestling portion of the card will feature a battle royal with Tiger Goldstick, Ram Singh, Geo. Lowe, Murray Speller, Roy Maycock and Johnny Bartlett entering the ring at the same time.

Golf Match Tomorrow

Eastern Pros Here

It will be west against the east tomorrow afternoon at the Victoria Golf Club when Freddy Wood and Stan Leonard, two of British Columbia's topnotch professionals, battle Jules Huot and Stan Horne of Montreal, in an 18-hole charity exhibition match.

The foursome will tee off with Hon. John Hart, president of the Oak Bay club, officiating as referee.

All proceeds from the exhibition will be donated to the Great Ormond Street Children's Hospital of London. This will be the

Final Boxla Game Tonight

The only team that has managed to beat the Bays this year in the local lacrosse wars, meets the champion outfit in the final league game of the season tonight. That team is the Alert Service, which, in its last meeting with the Bay outfit, came out on top 15 to 10.

All of which points to excitement, the Bays out for revenge and the Alerts out to show the boxla populace that the win of a fortnight ago was no freak. Both sides will be sporting full lineups, so whatever the results are, they will certainly be earned. The game starts at 8.30. At 7 McLean's Bakery and Owl Drug clear.

Tuesday senior and junior clubs will jump into the play-off pool. Three teams from each section will compete, meaning every squad in the senior grouping and all but Heaney in the junior.

Jokers and Alerts will start their play-off feud at the usual starting hour, 8.30, the winner of the eventual three-game series to make another attempt at ending Bay superiority. Owl Drug and Douglas Tire will compete in the junior affair, the survivor to be given the chance of upsetting the unbeaten McLean's Bakery.

George "Porky" Andrews will coach the Joker outfit in the place of Jimmy Smith, who has entered hospital for an operation.

LAWN BOWLING

The annual mixed rink competition for possession of the Sir Frank Barnard Trophy will be played on the greens of the Victoria West Lawn Bowling Club tomorrow afternoon. All games will start at 2. First round draw follows:

H. Baker vs. A. Marconini.
J. Imrie vs. D. C. Robertson.
D. McMillan vs. S. Barr.
A. Mitchell vs. A. Findlay.
E. Myers vs. S. Clarke.

Summer Football Folds in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Summer soccer, which was introduced here several weeks ago, survived a brief existence and the final curtain was brought down this week when St. Andrew's disposed of Kerrisdale by a 1 to 0 count.

Officials of the league, who said the new experiment was made in an attempt to rebuild the dying interest in the game, admitted failure had descended upon them and decided to close shop after four unsuccessful attempts to introduce soccer as a summer sport.

V.M.D., V.L.A. WIN SOFTBALL

It went 11 innings and a little hard hitting in the first half of that last overtime session garnered at 5 to 2 victory for the V.M.D. over H.M.C. Dockyard in B section softball game last night. Best game of the season, it was a pitching duel between Rosy McLellan of the winner and Hough of the dockyard.

In an exhibition game at the Athletic Park the V.L.A.-Causeway team and the Chinese R.C. clouted the ball to all corners of the lot, the former clouting a little harder to gain 19 to 11 decision. Seven fielding bobbles did not help the cause of the Chinese to any extent, as the Longshoremen hammered the ball in every direction during the whole game.

Opens Games

Our Boots Figures as Big Rival

CHICAGO (AP)—Whirlaway dares the graveyard of champions at Arlington Park tomorrow.

The king of the American turf will go to the post the top heavy favorite in the $60,000 Arlington classic—a race in which many a favorite fell before the stretch charge of unheralded long-shots.

Last year Gallahedian, Kentucky Derby winner, and Bimelech, one of the biggest failures in turf history, staggered home behind the victorious Sirocco, which paid off at $28.20.

Back in 1931, Mate, at 5 to 1, conquered Twenty Grand which had set a record in winning the Kentucky Derby that year.

Whirlaway probably will go to the post at odds of 1 to 6, and by all calculations the winner of the Kentucky, the Preakness and Belmont figures to triumph.

Probably no more than five will be in the running against Whirlaway in the mile and a quarter classic. The Woodvale Farm's Our Boots is regarded as Whirlaway's principal rival, with Attention, entry of Mrs. Parker Corning, New York, as another contender. The others will be Bushwacker, To a Tee and Daily Trouble.

Favorites Get Down in Front

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mahina Piha, the big Hawaiian imported gelding, won the sixth and feature event of a twilight racing card at Hastings Park yesterday.

Proud Harry was second and Halstead finished third, as Mahina Piha paid $6.50, $4.10 and $2.45 for a $2 pari-mutuel ticket.

Highest price of the day was paid by Nonie Lester in the second race, returning $9.45, $4.95 and $3.75. Dark Devil was second and Royal Hero third.

The first daily double of Bucket Brigade in the opening heat to Nonie Lester in the second race returned $22.90, while the second double of Mahina Piha in the sixth and Master Beau in the seventh paid $20.

First race—Seven furlongs: Bucket Brigade (Christen) won, $4.50 $4.75 $2.30; Tommy Sand (Franklin) — 4.90 2.33; Hi-Ginny (Shea) — 2.50.
Also ran: Bell, Pat, Cache Creek, Brox M. Avondale Star.

Second race—Five furlongs: Nonie Lester (Haller) — $9.45 $4.95 $3.75; Dark Devil (Sylvester) — 3.75 2.25; Royal Hero (Christensen) — 2.00.
Also ran: Woodvale Lad, Sunny May, Chief's Lady, Eia H. Clear Title.

Third race—Seven furlongs: Wild Dier (Sylvester) — $8.10 $4.15 $2.90; Zelpa Lass (Beard) — 5.15 2.85; Leba Trebor (Kelly) — 2.95.
Also ran: Somers Best, Merichon, Truety Mum, Finn Pion.

Fourth race—Seven furlongs: Miss Chick (Kelly) — $7.00 $3.75 $2.60; Barbara (Franklin) — 3.50 2.55; Ancient Rites (Sport) — 2.45.
Also ran: Zelpa Lad, Finished Gift, Ad Lib II, Wrackery, Roi D'Or.

Fifth race—Seven furlongs: Scotch Color (Bassett) — $5.80 $3.40 $2.35; Knapal, (Bailey) — 4.85 2.75; Small Mortgage (Beard) — 2.30.

RICH YET MILD

... this cheese food everybody goes for

The thicker it's spread the better it is

It's a grand way to get more milk nutrients into their diet!

Even I can make swell cheese sauce with Velveeta

EASY RECIPE: Simply melt ½ pound of Velveeta in the top of a double boiler. Stir in ½ cup of milk. Serve that smooth, rich sauce on vegetables, eggs, seafood, noodles, macaroni. Mm-m!

YOU SERVE Velveeta because it tastes so good ...because it can give such variety to your every-day menus. But it's nice to know, too, that this cheese food is rich in milk minerals and milk protein. Supplies vitamins A and C. Is as digestible as milk!

The whole family will thank you for keeping Velveeta on hand. There's the familiar half-pound package, of course, and a thrifty 2-pound loaf to keep you stocked for snacks, sandwiches and hot main dishes that'll give your menus a new twist.

Letters to the Editor

VETS CAN SWEEP COUNTRY

The Soldiers Protective Association and Political Club, Incorporated under the Societies Act, is open to the dependants of members of the C.A.S.F. and the reserve forces, the father, mother, wife, sister, brother, son or daughter of any present serving man or ex-service, can join provided they are on the voters' list and they promise to cast their vote best to ensure the welfare of the serving soldier and the veteran.

We all hear about this vote and that vote, but the dependants vote properly organized can sweep this country. We can put men in office whose duty will be to look after our interest.

We would like to see Victoria and Esquimalt organized. How is your sitting member? Does he see to it that the "Vet" gets the breaks? Does he get his share of work? How about civil service? Any men losing their homes in tax sale, contrary to section 298 of the Municipal Act? What is happening to the 1,700 men who are being discharged monthly? What treatment do they receive? Remember the last war?

We are running two candidates on the mainland. They will be both serving members of the forces, and they will ask the government.

Coast defences: If the war was suddenly to shift to this coast where would we be? Does your member make himself acquainted with these, or does he just travel around with the brass hats, drinking, having a good time, or does he mix with the troops and get their view?

How about subsistence allowance to our troops on leave, and increase in dependants' allowance?

Will any person in Esquimalt or Victoria interested in the welfare of our troops and discharged men—men who are anxious to see this Canada of ours step right out and take her place—and who are willing to change the present patronage system, join with us to organize the vote—Liberal or Conservative?

A. COLIN MACKENZIE, President.
752 Carnarvon St., New Westminster.

UTOPIA BY WHOM?

Mr. Bremner, in his letter referring to the Darwin controversy, looks to "a Saviour to bring in the most wonderful conditions of peace and happiness far beyond our conception, and so why worry about our origin and finish." This, I claim, is exactly where the mischief and harm, caused by the "hundred sects that prate about the things they little know about," comes in.

Much is heard in these trying days of the world being judged for its sins; of a "chosen people," of an "Impartial God," of a Saviour returning to establish the millennium and 1,000 years of peace. These beliefs, while in themselves quite harmless, can be a great hindrance to progress, especially when people become so engrossed in them that no interest is taken in social problems, finance, economics or even the ballot box.

Man, in his striving for betterment, must diligently study the facts of nature (science) and be courageous enough to apply the evidence to himself. Cromwell said: "Trust God but keep your powder dry." I would say, as dryness is to powder, so is reason to faith.

Religions (sprung from the myths and traditions of the past) which refuse to evolve have no message today. Science, not prayer, saves us from plagues and pestilence. Man's sense of decency, not religion, abolished child slavery and black slavery. Knowledge and human ethics are the beacons ahead and science, not piety, must light the way to Mr. Bremner's ideal of "peace and happiness far beyond our conception."

RUSSIA

Obviously Mrs. G. E. Altree Coley, as a professed Christian, stubbornly refuses to see the hand of God and so would reject the help of so-called "Godless Russia," who in protecting herself is assisting sorely-pressed Britain in her desperate hour of need. 'Tis said: God works in a mysterious way. His wonders to perform. In a natural, practical manner; He causes all things to serve His will to ultimate His purpose.

KILL TWO BIRDS WITH ONE SIGNAL

Hand signals by motorists in Victoria are altogether too few. The "V" for victory campaign offers opportunity for every driver to get behind the campaign. All can give proper hand signals by signalling turns and stops, with middle and index fingers of left hand extended, thus displaying the "V" sign for all to see.

City Pays $6,000 To 'Say It Florally'

Victoria, the "city of sunshine and flowers," spends approximately $6,000 a year to support its claim to distinctive floral beauty.

What citizens spend privately to provide their enviable gardens and what nurserymen put into their stock is a matter apart. Those figures cannot be computed. But whatever they may be, private horticulturists derive a substantial lead from the city itself.

Chief source of pride to W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent, are the hanging flower baskets which adorn downtown streets, lend bright splashes of color to the business section and win unsolicited praise from hundreds of visitors.

They cost about $2,410 a year. The appropriation for the 700 baskets amounts to $910. To that is added $100 in the form of depreciation on the service truck, while another $1,400 is allocated for growing the material and making up the baskets at the nursery. The cost averages $3.45 a basket and, in the words of the parks superintendent, constitutes

"the best investment the city has ever made to attract tourists."

Brightening the windows of the City Hall itself are brilliant window boxes, stocked with red geraniums, white double petunias, royal blue petunias, red fuchsias and blue lobelia. Their preparation and upkeep cost another $75 a year.

Inside the hall, artistic bouquets of seasonal blooms lend color to what might otherwise be drab offices. Sweet peas and baby's breath make a brave show in one room, spreading their delicate scent above the odor of ink and floor oil. In another gladioli tower in gorgeous hues from large vases. Still other varieties decorate other offices. Cut flowers are supplied twice a week at a cost of $9.50 a week.

No itemized list is available to determine costs of maintaining flower beds in the parks, but the expenditure on them has never been questioned.

It costs money to provide the floral decorations of the city. But there has yet to be a complaint made over the amount expended on that work.

Town Topics

The name of Mary Armitage of St. Ann's Academy was inadvertently omitted from those passing the junior matriculation examinations.

In Saanich Police Court yesterday afternoon a motorist was fined $10 on a charge of obstructing a fire truck on Lodge Avenue. Another motorist was fined $5 for not having a chauffeur's license.

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau has issued its new listing of auto courts on Vancouver Island. The pamphlet contains names, locations, rates and descriptions of more than 80 camps.

His many friends here will be interested to learn that Clifford Dowling has been appointed assistant general manager of the British United Press in Canada, with headquarters in Toronto. Mr. Dowling, who is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hall, Gordon Head, was formerly with the New York Times, and since returning from Australia, a year ago, has been with McKim's in Toronto.

Eight motorists were each fined $2.50 in City Police Court today on parking charges.

Robert McCauley, 777 Fort Street, reported to city police last evening carpenter's tools had been stolen from his car while it was parked in a vacant lot on Courtney Street.

A man who said he had taken some aspirin tablets and then a few drinks and the effect had been awful, was fined $25 in City Police Court today for being drunk on Quadra Street.

Provincial appointments today included Josiah Babcock of Cloose and Rev. Basil S. Hartley of Kitimat Mission to be justices of the peace, and James Turnbull of Hazelton and Dr. F. M. Auld of Nelson to be coroners.

Harold E. Hall, 2631 Blanshard Street, a city fireman, was treated for severe cuts to his hand at St. Joseph's Hospital last night at 10.20 after he had accidentally thrust his hand through a window of his car.

Appointment of Edward H. Barton of Chilliwack to the Board of Governors of the University of British Columbia was announced at the Parliament Buildings today. He replaces Samuel H. Shannon, resigned, and his term extends until August 27, 1943.

At the first council meeting held since the annual meeting the following were elected officers of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of British Columbia: President, K. D. Creer; vice-president, Wm. Macintosh; secretary-treasurer, H. N. Lunn. In addition the following were appointed representatives on the council of the Dominion Association of Chartered Accountants: K. D. Creer, Wm. Macintosh and J. Haydn Young. All are Vancouver residents.

Saanich firemen answered a false alarm to the salvage warehouse, Cloverdale Avenue and Oak Street, at 9.37 last night when smoke caused by burning old tires was mistaken for a fire by nearby residents. A grass and bush fire on Ash Street was attended at 10.30. The Oak Bay department extinguished a grass fire in the 2000 block on Newton Street at 2.10 yesterday afternoon. City firemen attended a grass fire in Beacon Hill Park at 9.45 this morning.

Fourth lecture at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Royal Oak, will be given Saturday by Dr. R. M. Petrie, who will speak on "Global Clusters." Weather permitting the great cluster in Hercules will be shown through the 72-inch telescope. This remarkable object is a compact cluster of 60,000 or more giant stars, at a distance of 36,000 light years or 200,000 miles from the earth. Visitors are welcome to attend this lecture, which will commence at 9.15 p.m. daylight saving time.

The city zoning board of appeal yesterday afternoon conditionally allowed the application of R. W. Hiberson for permission to install plumbing and re-erect a chimney for the house at the southeast corner of Quadra Street and Burdett Avenue, allowed the request of A. McMillan to construct a basement garage at 2916 Prior Street, tabled J. Bong's application for permission to build a garage at 822 Caledonia Avenue, approved plans and specifications submitted by Frank Higgins, K.C., to convert 1317 Pandora Avenue into a four-suite apartment, and passed plans of Eric C. Clarkson for a similar conversion of premises at 1216 Styles Street.

City Hall Briefs

ZONING HEARING SET FOR MONDAY

Citizens affected by the city's proposal to amend its zoning regulations regarding conversion of single family homes into multiple residences will be given an opportunity to voice their views at a meeting of the City Council on Monday afternoon at 3.

The proposed amendment would make possible conversion of one-family dwellings into duplexes irrespective of the date of their erection, provided plans were approved by the proper authorities.

The council is expected to have before it a report from the health committee on complaints received over demolition orders issued against certain structures. Those complaints were being considered by the health committee this afternoon along with a proposal from Dr. T. W. Walker that an isolation hut at the Jubilee Hospital be set aside for special use in the event of an outbreak of smallpox.

Consideration may be given appointment of delegates to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention at Harrison Hot Springs on September 23 and 24. The resolutions committee will meet on September 22 and resolutions must be submitted in writing to the executive not later than August 26.

Picnic for Sailors

The women's hospitality committee of the Auxiliary Services has organized picnic outings for a number of naval ratings from Esquimalt barracks on Sunday.

The picnic will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Leonard, Langford Lake. Arrangements are in the hands of the Teachers' Federation.

Twenty-five men from Work Point were given an outing at the same place last week-end and had an enjoyable time swimming and boating despite indifferent weather.

A further appeal to public organization to assist in arranging these outings has been made by the auxiliary services.

Pattullo Greets Conservative Chief

Premier Pattullo greeted Hon. R. B. Hanson, National Conservative House leader, by telegram today. Mr. Hanson arrives here this afternoon.

The Premier sent the message to Mr. Hanson in Vancouver, reading: "Please accept my cordial greetings on the occasion of your visit to British Columbia. I would be very pleased to have a call from you on your arrival in Victoria." The Conservative leader is attending a reception for local Con-

Says Danes Hate Germany

"If there is anything in the world the Danes as a whole always have hated, it has been Germany," E. Hertel, representing the Danish Council in London, said today during a visit to Victoria.

"We relied too long on a policy of disarmament," he added, "and from that, other peoples may have gained the impression that we liked the Nazis. Nothing is further from the truth."

Mr. Hertel came to Victoria in the course of a tour of Canada, during which he has interviewed Danish residents with a view to securing maximum co-operation in the British war effort. Similar tours are being made in the United States and South America by other representatives.

"The Danish Council represents the free Danes of Great Britain and Northern Ireland," said Mr. Hertel. "Our aim is to work for the freedom and independence of Denmark. We realize the future independence of Denmark is dependent entirely on a British victory. Our wish is to give the fullest possible co-operation and help in the British war effort."

Those Danes in Canada who have retained their Danish citizenship are being encouraged to join the small free Danish force being formed in England, Mr. Hertel said. This force will be incorporated in the East Kent Regiment, which has as its honorary colonel King Christian X of Denmark.

Danes who have become Canadian nationals also are being asked for their fullest help in the war effort, Mr. Hertel said. He noted that many had joined the Canadian forces.

Mr. Hertel is returning east today. He said he would return shortly to England. He was the luncheon guest of Lieut.-Col. J. M. Burnett, 1st Battalion, Irish Fusiliers.

Street Car Pins Auto Against Pole

A street car and an automobile came to blows last evening at Haultain Street and Richmond Road, the automobile getting the worst of the deal.

The street car, operated by T. Miller, 1269 Montrose Avenue, was traveling south on Richmond while the auto, driven by Maxwell F. Bloomfield, 2639 Graham Street, was going west on Haultain.

The front end of the auto was pinned between a light pole and the street car. Damage was considerable. City police constables Ray Maitland, Stan Holmes and Norman Galbraith attended. Damage was done to cars driven by Eleanor B. McLeod, 1427 Elford Street, and Emmatt Ellison, 2550 Vancouver Street, when they collided on Pandora Avenue at 4.50 yesterday afternoon.

B.C. Relief Rolls Decrease Again

Unemployment relief rolls in British Columbia dropped in June to 21,180 persons, of whom 9,175 were in the unemployable category, E. W. Griffith, unemployment administrator, said today.

Of the 12,005 listed as employables, 2,870 were heads of families, 6,661 were dependents, and 2,474 single persons.

The total list showed a drop of 29,210 from June of last year, and 1,737 from May of this year.

MacKenzie, Power Fly Back After Month in Britain

OTTAWA (CP)—Air Minister C. G. Power and Pensions Minister Ian MacKenzie were back in their Ottawa offices today after a dawn-to-dusk flight from the United Kingdom.

With a large party of high officials they landed at Rockcliffe Airport last night following nearly a month's study of war problems in the Empire's citadel.

The Air Minister said he had "a wonderful trip" and a most satisfactory series of conferences in England, but would not be interviewed until he had an opportunity to consult with his cabinet colleagues.

But Mr. MacKenzie, in a prepared statement, was outspoken in his praise of the British people under stress of aerial bombardment and war hardships.

"There is no thought of compromise," he said. "No matter how long and hard the road, they will march to the very end."

Sir Gerald Campbell, British Minister to Washington, was a passenger in Maj. Power's plane from Britain to an eastern Canadian airport, leaving the party there to proceed to his post.

In Mr. MacKenzie's plane as far as the eastern Canadian airport where the transoceanic plane landed was J. J. Lowther, private secretary to the Duke of Kent who shortly is to visit Canada.

The two planes reached an eastern Canadian airport yesterday evening about two hours apart and the official parties were ferried immediately to Ottawa in service planes of the R.C.A.F.

The major duty performed by Mr. MacKenzie was presentation to Prime Minister Winston Churchill of the Torch of Victory, symbolic of Canada's over-subscription of the recent war loan.

This was done on July 1 in the gardens of 10 Downing Street, and Major Power arrived in London in time to be present at the ceremony.

Scottish Breakfast, Ottawa Dinner

"I consider my trip to Great Britain to have been successful in every way," Mr. MacKenzie said in his statement. "I left Canada for the United Kingdom four weeks ago today. The voyage back was wonderful in every way—breakfast in Scotland, dinner in Ottawa. I cannot speak too highly of the splendid organization that makes such speedy and reliable transportation possible."

"The Ministry of Aircraft Production deserves every possible praise for the magnificent service they have established. It has brought Canada and the Mother Country closer together. It is certainly invaluable to our staff."

New Auxiliary

Pacific Coast Small Boats Join United States Navy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Taking a lesson from Dunkerque and the priceless aid rendered Britain by a motley volunteer fleet of small boats, the U.S. navy is organizing an auxiliary of small craft along the Pacific coast for close in patrol work in case of war.

The little fishing and pleasure boats that ply coastal waters and know every inlet and bar are being mobilized by the hundreds and arrangements have been made to fit them with suitable guns if a coast defence emergency arises.

It is all being done on a volunteer basis, 12th Naval District officers say. Skippers, along with officers desiring to exchange ideas and have effective consultation with their opposite numbers in the United Kingdom.

"We have had our most senior officers of the army, navy and air force over there recently," said Mr. MacKenzie in his statement, "and from what I saw in England they have all achieved really splendid results."

"In the United Kingdom I had the opportunity of seeing much of our fighting services. In three weeks I visited our forces on several different occasions. They are all in splendid fettle, fit and keen and trained to perfection. I cannot speak too highly of our corps commander, Gen. McNaughton. He has already created for himself a most enviable reputation in England. His scientific brain has initiated many mechanical developments, and equipment and arms, which have been followed by other units and formations of the British army."

High Praise For Army Leaders

"He is most ably supported by his divisional commanders, Gen. Odum and Gen. Peckers, and by his brigade and battalion commanders and indeed by all ranks. Our Canadian boys hold the place of honor today in the defence of England. If the call and the challenge should come, Canada knows what the response will be."

"Canada is and should be very proud of her soldiers overseas. I saw most of the units of our forestry corps who are stationed in northern areas and who have been so splendidly organized by Brig. J. B. White of Montreal. On all sides I heard great praise of his great work and the excellent work of his units."

"I had the opportunity of seeing much of our Canadian military headquarters in London. Maj. Gen. Montague is rendering excellent service; there is complete harmony and co-operation all through our Canadian Corps."

Post-war Plans Talked Over

The minister said he had discussed matters of reconstruction while in England.

"It has been said that in times of peace we should prepare for war. It is equally true that in times of war we should prepare for peace. I discussed these important problems with Mr. Greenwood, Minister without Portfolio, and Sir George Christy, also with Sir William Beveridge, noted economist and expert on social problems."

Fred MacMurray

In Modern Drama

"One Night in Lisbon" is the first big laugh to be smuggled out of war-torn Europe.

For today Lisbon has become the most exciting, most romantic city in all the world. With its crowded refugees, who range from kings to beggars, all seeking this last port of escape, "One Night in Lisbon" will open at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow.

But that's not all. For Edward H. Griffith, veteran producer-director, managed to capture the lighter side of the war, an accomplishment that is nothing short of genius. In an intriguing story filled with spies, espionage and sabotage agents, mystery and thrilling suspense, Griffith masterfully has turned drama into rollicking comedy with the aid of talented Madeleine Carroll and fun-loving Fred MacMurray.

Setting a fast pace, the film opens with air raid warnings in blacked-out London. Fred MacMurray, Yankee pilot who ferries bombers across the Atlantic to the R.A.F., ducks into a nearby air raid shelter, sees beautiful Madeleine Carroll and it's love at first sight for him. This starts his mad chase after the blonde eye-ful which finally winds up in Lisbon, where the girl of his dreams is kidnapped by German agents before his very eyes.

CADET THEATRE

Joan Bennett, co-starred with Louis Hayward in Edward Small's "The Son of Monte Cristo," now at the Cadet Theatre through United Artists release, comes naturally by her theatrical talents. Centuries ago Joan's forebears were pantomimists and strolling players in England and Scotland. Two of her grandparents, Lewis Morrison and Rose Wood, were stage favorites of the 19th century.

The girl of 1933 is the most vital girl in feminine history, according to Joan Crawford, perennially popular film star who makes her latest screen appearance today at the York Theatre in "Today We Live," in which she is co-starred with Gary Cooper. The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production is based on a story by William Faulkner, celebrated author of "Light in August" and "Sanctuary." "Today's girl is an interesting combination of several strong forces which shook the world in recent years," stated Miss Crawford in a recent interview. "These are: First, the war; second, the period of devil-may-care directly following the war; third, the era of reckless, spendthrift prosperity previous to 1929; and fourth, the current period of the depression."

Tired, Aching, Perspiring Feet

Relieves Pain and Soreness Great for Offensive Odors

One application of Emerald Oil and you'll get the surprise of your life. Your tired, aching, burning feet will literally jump for joy.

No fuss, no trouble; you just apply a few drops of the oil over the surface of the feet night and morning, or when occasion requires. Just a little and rub it in. It's simply wonderful the way it acts while for feet that sweat and give off an offensive odor, there's nothing better.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics—so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually.

Britain to Take 2-Thirds of Pack

OTTAWA (CP)—Conclusion of an agreement whereby two-thirds of British Columbia's total 1941 production of canned salmon will be shipped to the United Kingdom was announced today by Trade Minister MacKinnon.

The announcement said negotiations for the agreement were conducted between the British food mission in Washington, acting on behalf of the British Food Ministry, and the Federal Department of Trade and Commerce, acting in consultation with the Department of Fisheries.

The fisheries department will be responsible for arranging the supply of canned salmon to the United Kingdom, Mr. MacKinnon said.

"It is expected the total quantity of canned salmon which will be supplied to the United Kingdom will be in excess of 1,000,000 cases and that this will be a very much larger quantity than has ever been supplied to the United Kingdom from Canada in the past," he added.

"In order to provide the quantity needed for United Kingdom requirements, steps are being taken to ration the quantities available for shipment to other markets."

The minister did not disclose what form these "steps" to ration shipments to other markets would take.

Mr. MacKinnon disclosed also that negotiations to supply the food ministry with 35,000 long tons of canned herring were proceeding.

"It is confidently expected these negotiations will be brought to a successful conclusion before the end of this month," he said.

PENNLAND AMONG 6 SHIPS SUNK

NEW YORK (AP)—Destruction of six British and Netherlands ships totaling 53,234 tons and including the famous Holland-America liner Pennland, 16,082 tons, during the German conquest of Greece was reported today in delayed information from the Mediterranean.

One report said that close to 300,000 tons of shipping were destroyed by Axis powers operating in Argos Bay.

The Pennland, well known in the New York-Holland run before the war, was sunk with a loss of three lives two hours after leaving Piraeus. British warships rescued 297 persons.

The 7,665-ton British freighter Quilco was destroyed by the

Munitions Minister Howe Snubbed

Air Officials Deny Press Access to Ministers

AN EASTERN CANADIAN AIRPORT (CP)—A rigid barrier of guards baffled newspapermen who attempted to cover the arrival of Air Minister Power and Pensions Minister MacKenzie at their first landing point in Canada on their return from the United Kingdom yesterday evening.

Two or three got through to Pensions Minister MacKenzie in time to get a written statement from him. But apparently none got through to the Air Minister. He was at first reported to have stopped here for the night until word was received that he had arrived at the Rockcliffe Airport, Ottawa.

THOUGHT KENT COMING

Rumors during the day that Duke of Kent might be coming sent newspapermen scurrying to all possible points of arrival. Attempts to get press passes to this airport were unsuccessful and when newspapermen presented themselves they were told orders from Ottawa forbade the admission of press representatives to the field.

One reporter was told the order forbidding the newsmen on the field had come from the Department of External Affairs in Ottawa. A long distance call to that department brought the reply the order had not come from there.

Soon afterwards, newspapermen sought the intercession of Munitions Minister Howe, who tried to reach a representative of the British Ministry of Aircraft Production by telephone. As soon as the minister mentioned the word press the receiver at the other end of the line clicked.

MINISTER REFUSED PASSES

Mr. Howe replaced the telephone line, looked around and said emphatically, "I'm going down to that place"—the production ministry's branch at the airport. He came back with an official, who gave him assurance he would do all possible to help the newspapermen get on the field. However, he was turned down by Royal Canadian Air Force officers when he sought passes for British with depth charges after German planes damaged her and forced her aground.

Other reported losses were: Costa Rica, Netherlands passenger liner, 8,672 tons, one killed; Ulster Prince, British passenger liner, 3,792 tons; City of Karachi, British freighter, 7,140 tons, and Glenearn, British passenger liner, 9,784 tons.

NEW AIR CHIEF—H. J. Symington, K.C., president, Trans-Canada Airlines.

the men to get through to Mr. Power.

(Officials of the British Ministry of Aircraft Production said afterwards they understood the person who took Mr. Howe's telephone call had been under the impression it was a hoax.

(They added that "we are most anxious to co-operate at all times with the press, taking into consideration the urgency and safety of the passengers and planes we transport, and other factors we cannot explain. Our representatives spent all day Thursday at the disposal of representatives of Canadian newspapers, and interceded with all persons concerned on their behalf.")

MOVED BY GUARDS

The official managed to get the newspapermen to a gate fairly near the place where Mr. Power landed and said if the Air Minister cared to see the press he would bring him over. However, the R.C.A.F. guards came along soon afterwards with orders to move the newsmen beyond another gate about a quarter of a mile from the landing point.

There they waited and eventually an air force officer came along to say that Mr. Power had stated he was too tired to see the press. The officer said the order barring men from the grounds had come from Air Commodore Leckie, acting chief of air staff, who believed the Air Minister would be "extremely tired" after his trip and would not care to be interviewed.

The newspapermen stayed by the gate and, while a cameraman stood in the middle of the road slowing up all cars, tried to see if they could catch the Air Minister's eye and have him stop for a few minutes. But even that didn't work, probably because the Air Minister was already on his way to Ottawa.

Two cameramen took pictures of Mr. MacKenzie, but their films were seized by air force men and had not been returned when the men scattered for home.

Claim C.N.R. Train Had Right of Way

VANCOUVER (CP)—Normal traffic schedules were resumed today on Canadian National-Great Northern Railways jointly-used single track line between here and New Westminster, where a head-on collision yesterday between passenger trains of the two systems brought death to four trainmen and injury to 22 other persons.

Charles Lynam of Vancouver, crewman of the second section of the Canadian National westbound Continental Limited, died in hospital at New Westminster, B.C., 12 miles east of here, last night, fourth trainman to die as result of the collision.

Killed in the wreck were A. Hager of Seattle, fireman of the Seattle-bound Great Northern train; H. H. Mills of Vancouver, Canadian National engineer, and H. H. Krinks of Vancouver, C.N.R. baggageman.

Krinks body was recovered late last night from the wreckage of his baggage car by joint crews of the two railway companies working to clear the line.

The collision occurred on the single track line just east of a double track section where the Great Northern train had already passed No. 2 section of the Continental Limited.

No reason was given by either company for the wreck, but C.N.R. officials said both sections of the "Limited" had "right over the Great Northern train from New Westminster to Endot siding, which is the east end of the double track."

Great Northern officials at headquarters in Seattle did not comment.

Still in hospital in serious condition was John Carey of Seattle, G.N. engineer.

Also in hospital were 21 passengers, many of them prairie visitors en route to the coast on vacation. Hospital authorities said most of those admitted suffered "head and chest injuries" and were in "good condition."

A score of other persons from both trains were treated at the scene for minor injuries, including shock and abrasions.

SALMON FISHERMEN REACH AGREEMENT

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver's salmon fishing fleet, tied up for 24 days because of a dispute between fishermen and cannery operators, is expected to sail for the fishing grounds within the next few days following an agreement reached yesterday and ratified by the United Fishermen's Federal Union.

Under the new agreement fishermen will receive seven-eighths of the season's catch with the other four-eighths going to the boat. It also includes an understanding that there will be negotiations for a new share basis next season with the catch being divided into 12 shares, four of which would go to the boat and eight to the crew.

Prices to be paid by the canners for fish under the agreement are for No. 1 salmon caught from July 23 to the end of the season, excepting fall chums, which will be negotiated September 1. They are 10 and 11 cents a pound for sockeye, 5½ cents a pound for pinkies, 6 to 7½ cents a pound for bluebacks, and 10 to 12 cents each for chums and white springs.

VAUGHAN SAYS MEN ARE LOYAL

MONTREAL—"The Canadian National Railway has a loyal and efficient staff of officers and employees, and I am satisfied that, with their assured co-operation, we will be able to handle the ever-increasing business of the country expeditiously and efficiently," R. C. Vaughan, newly-appointed president, said today.

"Our net earnings have greatly improved this year, which indicates what can be accomplished when we receive a satisfactory volume of business."

"Every company has a pay point; that is, a definite gross revenue which must be earned to cover fixed expenses, which cannot be avoided no matter how drastic the curtailment, but as gross earnings exceed that pay point, net earnings increase rapidly. The Canadian National Railway is no different from other companies in that respect, and no matter how we may watch expenses, we must have sufficient gross earnings to produce satisfactory net earnings."

"Our lines have been busy moving troops and war supplies of all kinds."

"Not long ago it was suggested by some that certain of our lines be lifted. Much of the mileage which it was suggested should be abandoned has been working to capacity, and it would have been impossible to move the

New York List

NEW YORK (AP)—Heightened war tension in the Far East put a slight chill on the stock market today but brought heavy speculative demand for import commodities. Sales approximated 800,000 shares.

Some commission house customers began to shelve commitments when the President indicated the United States would retaliate with specific action to tomorrow against Japan's move in Indo-China.

The business scene, including pleasing earnings and dividends, propped individual stocks.

World sugar features opened the limit and silk contracts spurred. Cocoa, rubber, tin and cottonseed oil pushed upward. Cotton, in late trades, was up more than $2 a bale at new 11-year peaks. Grains did little either way. At Chicago wheat was unchanged to off ¼ of a cent a bushel and corn down ¼ to 70½.

A sharp nose-dive of Japanese dollar loans was the feature of the bond department where corporate issues exhibited mixed tendencies.

Among wavering shares were Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, Santa Fe, Great Northern, J. I. Case, Douglas Aircraft, Du Pont, Union Carbide, American Smelting, U.S. Steel, International Nickel, Montgomery Ward and Eastman Kodak.

One block of 47,000 shares of United Corp. Common sold at ½, off ¼.

Resistance was shown by U.S. Industrial Alcohol, American Sugar Refining, South Porto Rico Sugar, N.Y. Shipbuilding, Nash-Kelvinator, Electric Boat, Bath Iron Works, General Motors, Eastern Air Lines and American Airlines.

Canadian stocks were very inactive today. Canadian Pacific gained ¼ and Distillers Seagram held unchanged. In the bond market Canada 4s held unchanged.

Gold's High

TORONTO (CP)—Trading action was concentrated mainly in the mining issues Friday on the Toronto Exchange and prices advanced, especially in golds. Industrials were a bit easy in spots and the western oils remained steady.

Waite-Amulet touched a new high for the year at 4.25 and closed at 4.15. Steep Rock traded at 1.60, up a cent, while Ventures, Sherritt and Aldermac improved slightly.

Kerr-Addison and Preston posted gains of 10 cents and gains of 3 to 5 cents were posted for a number of other secondary golds. Lake Shore, East Malartic and Bonet weakened 2 to 3 cents.

Prices were down narrowly for goods, utilities and steels, and stronger for implements, papers and miscellaneous issues.

Slight weakness appeared for the western oils, including Calgary and Edmonton, Home Oil, Brown and Palcatia.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Mills, southern houses and locals made scattered purchases in the wheat futures pit on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, but their support was outweighed by offerings. There were no trades in the July future and final quotations were ¾ to ¼ cent lower at 75½ for October and 78 for December futures. July was quoted at 74¼.

Fairly light activity in oats and barley was reported, with mills interested in oats, shippers in barley. Hedging sales outweighed support, however, and prices ruled fractionally lower most of the session. Flax values were unchanged and rye fractionally lower in dull trade.

In the cash wheat market mills continued to pick up small amounts of Nos. 3 and 4 northern wheat.

Chicago wheat values were unchanged just before close, while Buenos Aires wheat quotations were about unchanged near the close.

Farmers delivered a total of 909,000 bushels of wheat to country elevators yesterday, compared with 906,000 bushels the same day in 1940. Grain inspections were 768 cars against 838 last year.

Ichneumon Flies Attack Food Plant Enemies

People would have a hard time if Nature did not have her own ways of destroying certain insects. There are insects which attack growing crops, and if they were not held in check, the crops might be spoiled completely.

As it is, Nature has several ways to save us from too much harm. Birds eat harmful insects, and perhaps even more important one type of insect feeds on another.

AN ICHNEUMON FLY

Among our great helpers in this field are the ichneumon flies. The name "ichneumon" is pronounced "ick-NEU-mum." It means "tracker," and this insect does track down other insects.

There are so many kinds of ichneumon flies (more than 6,000) that we cannot describe them all at once. Yet we may say they most often are black with bands, or spots, of yellow or red. One kind has a bright red color all over its body.

In the full-grown stage of life, they have four wings, six legs and a pair of feelers growing out from the head.

These flies have a special trick about laying their eggs. Usually they place the eggs inside the body of a caterpillar or an aphid.

It is well known that aphids and most caterpillars destroy food crops. So anything which destroys them will be good for us.

Among the caterpillars attacked are cutworms. As the cutworms grow, the ichneumon eggs hatch inside them and feed on their bodies. Before they can turn into moths, they are killed.

Here is a point of interest: the larva of the fly seldom eats the vital organs of the caterpillar. For this reason the caterpillar may live for several weeks. By that time the larva of the fly is ready to go into the cocoon stage.

Some caterpillars are able to spin cocoons while their bodies are under attack. When the cocoon of a caterpillar is opened, flies—not a moth or butterfly—may come out.

One kind of ichneumon fly is famous because it can drill holes in tree bark. This fly has a body about two and a half inches long. It drills the hole to place an egg near the young of a wood-boring insect. The egg hatches out and the larva of the fly eats the young of the wood-boring insect.

HOROSCOPE

JULY 26
Adverse aspects are noted for today. With Venus square with Uranus there may be waste. Heavy expenditures made today may cause trouble later. Persons may feel discouraged over the failure of certain plans. Young people may find themselves in a restless or moody frame of mind. Gossip may cause bad feeling among women.

There is a sign read as indicating important news from abroad in the near future. The seers declare there may be word of new treaties or agreements among European leaders.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a successful year. Children born on this day may be diligent and persevering.

Compensation Act Hearings Monday

Hearings in connection with Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan's inquiry into the administration and operation of the Workman's Compensation Act will open Monday morning at 11 in the Court of Appeal room.

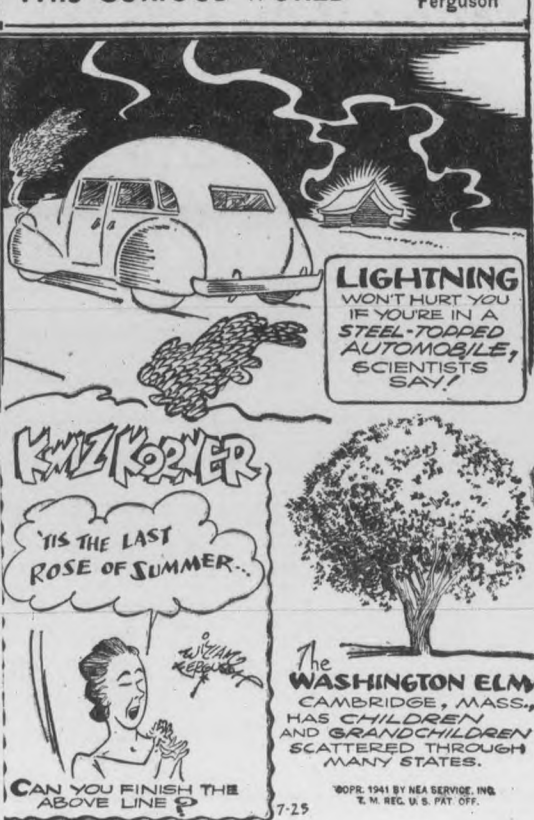

The main function of the inquiry will be to secure factual matter on any complaints and to study proposed amendments suggested for the act.

The commissioner will not be required to act in the capacity of a board of review on individual cases, but may consider them from the standpoint of their effect on the policy of the Workman's Compensation Board.

Monday's session is expected to be largely of an organization nature, with the appearances by interested persons.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am 23. My boy friend was in the army, but has been discharged as unfit for service. He has never had any kind of settled work and now earns only $15 a week. I love him very much and he wants me to marry him. My parents object to the marriage because he is a sick man and they say it would not be fair to myself or to him if I did. What do you think? M.H.

Answer—What are you looking for? Trouble? How can you imagine that a marriage could be successful that was built on such a rickety foundation? How would you eat if you had only $15 a week to live on? And what guarantee has a sick man that he will be able to hold down his job? Don't be foolish.

Don't marry until your sweetheart is well and is in a position to support a family. Certainly you would do him no kindness by adding the anxiety of taking care of a wife to his other worries.

DOROTHY DIX.

Bombed London Hospital In Dire Need of Aid

Lord Southwood, chairman of the Hospital for Sick Children at Great Ormond Street, London, wrote recently to one of Victoria's leading business men telling him of the great tragedy that has befallen this, the greatest hospital for sick children in the world, pleading for the institution of means of help to rebuild the great building which was bombed out by German high explosive missiles.

In his letter, Lord Southwood writes: "You may have read in the papers that a children's hospital in central London had been bombed. That hospital was the Hospital for Sick Children at Great Ormond Street.

"For years men and women had toiled devotedly and unceasingly to rebuild this famous children's hospital. The greater part of a modern and beautiful building had been completed at a cost of over £350,000. Then in the night came the bombs.

"Doctors and nurses and the hospital staff fought a fire, the flames of which roared into the air. They battled through the roaring floods shoulder deep from the burst water mains. Every baby in the hospital was saved. By a miracle not a single life was lost. The wreckage remains—and amid that wreckage the hospital that has never closed its doors since the day it was first opened in 1852, carries on.

"I am sending you with this letter a little of the rubble that was once part of the magnificent building that Hitler has bombed. I am sending, too, a few photographs that will give you some idea of this act of wanton destruction against innocent little children.

"On behalf of the children who have been so outrageously wronged—on behalf, too, of those wonderful men and women of the hospital staff who, through flame and flood and fury, carried their little charges to safety—I appeal to you to help.

Some of the wreckage in one of the wards.

"In your position I know only too well that you have many appeals that may seem to make a more immediate claim upon you. Far be it from me to ask for your help at the expense of any local charity, but I do ask you to look upon this very urgent appeal as something quite apart. For children—sick and suffering children—are in a special sense the responsibility of every one of us. They are, too, the coming generation—the men and women of the future to whom, when victory

Chinese Envoy Speaks Here

"The war in China could be finished shortly if the United States would embargo oil shipments to Japan and if China were able to obtain 1,500 airplanes." Those were the words of Dr. Kalfred Dip Lum, special envoy of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to the United States, when he spoke to the Kinsmen Club at an open air dinner meeting at Mount Douglas Park last night. Dr. Lum is a member of the Central Executive Committee of Kuomintang, a technical expert on foreign affairs and professor of public administration at Chaotung University, Shanghai.

Dr. Lum gave a short but comprehensive survey of the four years of war in his native land and his interpretation of the recent cabinet shake-up in Japan. Japan invaded China, he explained, under the pretense that she came as a guardian to restore order and to protect her investments, which, she said, had been jeopardized by the Chinese. Neither of these excuses, Dr. Lum stated, was valid, China having for 10 years prior to the invasion a central, democratic government that was rapidly improving the country. No other countries considered their investments in China to be endangered, he explained.

During these four years of war China had fought desperately. In Shanghai, during the early days of the fight, the retreating Chinese opened coffins, which are laid on the surface of the ground because its low level prohibits the digging of pits for interment, hid in them and shot the Japs from this concealment when they advanced. Guerrilla warfare, the speaker stated, had been carried out with surprising success against the invader. He told of how telephone pole wires were cut, their joints being replaced with thin willow branches the same color of the wire. Railway tracks, he said, had been torn up and replaced with clay facsimiles, this trick causing in-

"When I tell you that our hospital is $175,000 on the wrong side and that war or no war this debt must be paid off, you will appreciate the tremendously difficult task with which I am faced.

"The work of the Hospital for Sick Children is world-wide—our tiny patients come to it from every corner of the Empire and the doctors and nurses who are trained here go forth on their missions of healing all over our own country and to countries beyond the seas.

Patients being evacuated from the bombed building. There were no casualties.

Many of the little ones who come to us are the children of those grand men who are fighting to defend our Empire and our liberty. To help now is to gain their undying gratitude. Your assistance now will give us the assurance that one day—and may that day come soon—the Angel of Mercy shall once again beckon little children where the destroying angel has just been.

"Please do this for us—your kindness in this dark hour will never be forgotten.

"Yours faithfully,

"SOUTHWOOD."

One step along the road of repair has been taken by the Canadian Kinsmen Clubs. They are sponsoring charity golf exhibitions across Canada with Canada's two leading professionals, Stanley Horne of Montreal and Jules Huot of Quebec, playing the leading golfers of the individual cities in which they play. This Saturday the twosome will meet Stan Leonard and Freddy Wood of Vancouver at the Oak Bay golf course, the game to start at 2.30.

Horne and Huot are two of the finest products of Canadian golf courses, the former recognized over a period of years as one of the country's best. He has been successful in competitions south of the line against some of the best golfers offered by the States. His steadiness and long drives and irons have drawn praise from some of the most successful American pros.

The two played together in the International Fourball Matches at Miami in 1940 and were just beaten out by two of the United States' best, Ralph Guldahl and Benny Hogan. An admission fee will be charged for those wishing to follow and watch the pros in action, and with expenses cut to a minimum it is expected to turn over a good sum to the cause of these sick and handicapped children.

numerable train wrecks. Because of this, trains that once took 24 hours to run between Shanghai and Peiping were lucky to make the trip in 24 days.

In the first year of the war the invaders progressed an average of 12 kilometres each day, in the second year six kilometres, and in the third one kilometre, and at the present time they are slowly falling back. In the ratio of men lost, Dr. Lum stated that five Chinamen were lost for every Jap killed during the first year's fighting, this being reduced to three to one in the second year, two to two in the third year, and, due to more successful guerrilla warfare, one to five in this, the fourth year of the war.

Dr. Lum attributed the recent fall of the Nippon cabinet to the failure of Foreign Minister Matsukata in Germany and Russia. The agreements with Stalin and Hitler were designed to scare the United States and Britain in the east and to divert American war materials from Britain. They failed.

He said the new cabinet, although militaristic, was not in power for the purpose of aiming a strong policy against the democracies, but rather to cope with internal troubles. The Japanese people, the speaker explained, were becoming restless because of a food shortage and because 1,000,000 sons, brothers and fathers had failed to return from the China war. Dr. Lum ended his talk with the words: "Men were not meant to kill and destroy, but to love. The wars in the world today are a struggle of divergent elements rather than hatred between peoples."

Coal Output Grows

FERNIE, B.C. (CP) — The output of coal at the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. mine is steadily increasing, with the Michel producing 74,277 long tons in June, an increase of 15,831 tons over the same month last year, it was stated today. Coal Creek mines produced 14,704 tons compared with 10,287 tons in June, 1940.

1,000 Australian Planes

SYDNEY (CP)—By the end of October Australia will have 1,000 Australian-made planes in the air, Aircraft Production Minister J. W. Leckie announced today.

This achievement is described in government circles as a major industrial triumph in Australia.

One of the wickedest cities in the world is Irkutsk, Siberia, where as many as 500 murders have been committed annually, although its population does not exceed 120,000. Arrests average one in every 50 murders and only half the arrests are followed by convictions.

The present population of the earth is estimated at about 2,000,000,000.

Willkie Talks

'We Must Step Forth, Throw Hitler Off Guard'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Wendell Willkie called for a positive United States defence against the Nazi machine in an address prepared for a mass meeting last night.

Advocating an aggressive campaign of aid to Germany's enemies, the 1940 Republican nominee said: "We must read our lesson in the fate of other free peoples who found themselves unprepared to meet and stop the amazing war machine created by Adolf Hitler. Hitler has challenged our freedom. In defending it, we cannot wait in the corner for him to strike us. We must, on the contrary, size up our antagonist.

"We must plan our strategy and our tactics and, at the proper time, we must step forth boldly and courageously to throw Hitler off his guard, to bewilder him. . . . We must force him to take the count.

"The defence of freedom must be a positive thing. We must not be afraid to act—and we must be prepared to act swiftly and suddenly.

"We must not be afraid to give our President the necessary emergency powers which will enable him to act—swiftly and suddenly. We must realize that, in order to prevent the Axis from waging war on us, in our hemisphere, and possibly some day on our soil, these swift moves of ours must be taken at remote distances from the American continent, in strategic spots whose importance is appreciated and understood by our army and navy.

"This kind of defence, this positive kind of defence, has already proved effective.

"In a very real sense, it is responsible for Hitler's present difficulties in Russia. It is responsible for the exhaustion of men and equipment he is suffering there, and for the chance given Britain and the United States, meanwhile, to strengthen themselves.

"For our aid to Britain—which the isolationists did not want us to deliver—has been the deciding factor in all this. . . . Hitler's enormous gamble of invading Russia never would have happened if Britain and America had not been made strong by positive defence."

On the Russian situation, Willkie said: "The only thing we have ever had to fear from Communism is the possible triumph of an ideology. Now even the idea (of Communism) is no longer a real menace to democracy. Its appeal is rapidly dying; its propaganda is confused and futile. It is a dream that didn't come true.

"Russia has never been a military menace or a trade menace to us. For 23 years the Communists have been on the Berlin Strait, and we've never had any reason to fear that they would attack us across that narrow water.

"But the picture with Hitler is different. He is engaged with all the terrible power of his military machine in conquering the world. If he succeeds, he means to enslave it economically, politically and culturally. He has plainly told us so."

Pointing out that a positive defence involves great sacrifice, Willkie called also for aid to China, to divert the energies of Japan—and for doubling and re-doubling United States aid to Britain.
